G. F. Sawie left Thursday morning for California, where he expects to spend the winter with his sister, Mrs. Morton Scott. He stopped at Chicago for a few days' visit with friends at Dodgeville Sun-Republic.

SPRING ARRIVES—SAYS INDIAN.

Old Joe, Wilmecago Indian, living on a bank of the Mississippi between LaCrosse and Trempealeau, says spring has arrived. He cites out of doors signs, known only to the red man, to prove this, and points to the small houses of the muskrats and other evidence. Joe predicted that winter would be practically over by New Year's.

On Christmas day, a few of the neighbors surprised Mrs. Tim Harrison and family, and came at about two o'clock in the afternoon and also spent the evening. They all came with well filled baskets.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it, and when in need of such medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Auburn, Ky., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE CENSUS

Enumeration Begins January 2, 1920.

The census is required every ten years by the Constitution of the United States and by Act of Congress. The date named for beginning the 1920 census is January 2, but the "Census Day" is January 1.

In cities the population enumeration will be completed in two weeks.

The enumeration of manufacturers, mines and quarries, oil and gas wells, and forestry and forest products will, as a rule, be taken by special agents and by correspondence and not by enumerators.

The census is the means by which the Government ascertains the increase in the population, the statistics concerning agriculture, and the vital information concerning the resources of the Nation.

Census for Statistical Purposes Only
The census inquiries are defined by act of Congress.

The information gathered is strictly confidential, made so by law.

Census information can now under any circumstances be used as a basis for taxation, nor can it be used to harm any person or his property.

It has nothing whatever to do with detection, arrest, prosecution of any person for any violation of any law.

Important Questions Asked of All Persons

1. Age at last birthday.

2. Each person ten years of age and over will be asked whether he is able to read, write and use the English language as well as the birthplace of father and mother.

4. If foreign born the date of coming to the United States will be asked and, if naturalized, the date of becoming a citizen; also mother tongue or native language.

5. Each head of a family will be asked whether his home is owned by him or rented. If owned, whether the home is mortgaged or free of debt.

6. Each person will be asked his occupation and whether he is an employee or is working on his own account.

The answers to the above questions give valuable and vital information to the Government concerning the health, welfare, and progress of the persons under its protection.

Important Questions Asked of Farmers

1. Each occupant of a farm will be asked how many years, if any, he works on a farm for wages; how many years, if any, he was a tenant; and how many years, if any, he farmed as an owner.

2. Whether he (a) owns, or (b) rents, or (c) partly owns and partly rents his farm, or whether (d) he operates the farm for others as a manager or superintendent.

3. How many acres in his farm.

Number of improved acres? Number of unimproved acres and number of acres woodland?

4. Fiscal value of farm? Total value of buildings? Value of implements and machinery on farm?

5. Whether farm is mortgaged? If so, the amount of mortgage?

6. Expenses for fuel, fertilizer and labor in the year 1919?

7. Several questions concerning artificial drainage of his farm.

8. Number of cows, horses, sheep, chickens and other domestic animals on the farm January 1, 1920?

9. Quantity and acreage of all crops grown on the farm in 1919, including fruits and vegetables?

10. Quantity of milk and butter sold off the farm during the year of 1919?

11. Acreage of timber land on farm and value of forest products?

Correct answers to the above questions are of the utmost importance.

The United States Department of Agriculture assisted the Census Bureau in preparing the question on the agriculture schedule and appeals to farmers everywhere to keep records for census purposes.

Copies of the Agriculture schedule can be had in advance by any farmer by writing to the Director of the Census, Washington, D. C.

A vast amount of work has been done in the preparation of the 1920 census and it is very important that the public should be made aware of the importance of the census and the need for the public to cooperate in the work. The census is the basis for the government's policy and the public's interest in the census is of the highest importance.

WALKER D. HINES.
Director General of Railroads.

Work more— Produce more— Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the increasing power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to the Association of Railway Executives, 41 Broadway, New York.

A CALENDAR For 1920 THAT IS WORTH WHILE

THIS CALENDAR is not an ordinary cheap advertising calendar. It is a striking reproduction in many colors of an unusually attractive girl. These calendars are 32 in. high, 10 in. wide, and have a clasp at the top for hanging.

We extend to all an invitation to visit our store and receive one of these handsome and useful calendars free of charge.

THE SHRINE AT MOTHER'S KNEE

By Charles Elbert Whelan

Just let me turn aside awhile.
And leave the rugged way:
Just let me rest a moment now,
And find my yesterday.

If I but pause and close my eyes,
I easily can see
The shrine of Mother's knee.

Give me, Oh God, her God to know,
To worship and believe:
Give me her faith to make the best
Of all that I receive.

Oh, let me catch her vision sweet:
It seemed so real to me,
When I knelt there and found my shrine.

My shrine at Mother's knee.

Years sweep along with certain swing:
Rough paths lead every foot:
Hope drowns in deep discouragement,
And love a hate doth meet.

With worn and heavy hearts we turn,
In halting, whispered plea,
To Him Who glorieth with peace
The shrine at Mother's knee.

Then, God! Oh, God! My Mother's God!
Who knew the cross she bore!
As to my memory there comes
My Mother, as of yore.

As though I were a little child
In faith I come to Thee—
Again I seek, again I find
The shrine at Mother's knee.

I am sending you this clipping of my last effort, because I think this volume is as much retrospective as prospective.
I thought you might enjoy a madame reading.

May each day of your life be such that, when gone, its memory shall bring you thought but peace.

Sincerely yours,
Charles E. Whelan.

Madison, Wis., January 1, 1920.

No Great Act of Heroism Required.

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effective.—Adm.

A Wish For The Pilgrim Ter-Centenary Year 1920

Let all that thou hast known of hope and good, Hast taken to thyself and made thine own, Be as the seed for some rich fragrant flower Followed by fruit to be thy soul's choice food With others shared, who wouldst not feast alone! Stretch forward into life's increasing power; The best is thine for striving; Earth is great, The Universe unmeasured. Opportunity, Far-seen or near, invites. We turn from ease, Our Mayflower hind, look upward, fear no fate, And if one ask, "What do ye? Who are ye?" "Pilgrims," we say, "who sail adventurous seas!"

1919, December 22nd. J. N. DAVIDSON.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

The management wishes to announce that the new equipment has been properly installed, and ready to give excellent reception, which is the most necessary about moving pictures. It also eliminates all danger from fire, gives a rock-steady picture, and will give splendid satisfaction.—Majestic.

Articles of Incorporation were filed last Friday by the Mt. Horeb Telephone Co., a new $40,000 concern, as a result of the "strike" of subscribers, who refused to use the Wisconsin system telephone after rates had gone into effect. ANNOUNCE
The Opening Of Their Annual
January Clearance Sales
STARTING
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7th 1920

Owing to the scarcity of print paper and the high cost of distributing circulars we take this means of informing our patrons of this annual event, for which a small city of women are waiting. This sale is not a money-making event but is a means of accomplishing our purpose to dispose of every winter and fall garment in the store regardless of the wholesale cost, former retail price or present market conditions.

IT IS A LONG ESTABLISHED SALE. Women—Thousands of them—come to the January Sale as a matter of course. They would not THINK of missing it. They save up their wants for weeks and months and bring them to the January Sale—buying from us in the single month of January more merchandise than many stores sell in six.

THEY DO THIS BECAUSE THEY CAN SAVE MONEY! It is no secret that prices during the January Sale are on a basis impossible to duplicate at other times. But the best part of it is the merchandise is the choicest, the very best goods that women want. That is what makes the sale so remarkable, the beauty, the freshness, the DESIRABILITY of the merchandise and the LOW PRICES.

Buy all you will need at the January Clearing Sales. Buy now and save money. Tell your friends about the sale. Tell them to tell other friends. Visitors are welcome. We are glad to have them come. They will find the sale interesting whether they desire to purchase or not.

Mrs. Walter Karberg and sons, William and Robert, visited their relatives in the capital city from Friday until Monday.

A program was given at Lochner's hall, Monday evening, last week, by the school of district No. 5, Betty, arranged by Miss Christina Messel, teacher of the school. A large crowd was present and the occasion was enjoyed by all.
