VOL. XLVII.

MAZOMANIE, DANE COUNTY, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, FEB. 6, 1920

NO. 1

War Department Will Conduct Essay Contest.

Twenty million schoolchildren in all parts of the United States are preparing to give battle to bookworms. In this case the battle will be waged not with the militant gun and sword, but with the more mighty pen, and pencil. The onslaught will take place on Feb. 20, the zero hour being set for any time during the day.

In all parts of the country, in every little hamlet as well as every large city the children are mobilizing their forces under the supervision of their teachers and principals. Into the fray the attack will be rather the English in formation, than the famous French formation of our late fighting forces. And the direct drive is to be an essay written on the subject of "What are the benefits of an enlistment in the U. S. Army?"

The movement is being directed by the War Department in Washington, to where the writers of the three best essays will be given a free trip, and there Secretary of War Baker will present them with medals of gold, silver, and bronze in order of merit, for their very own and each with a silver locket cup for the school which he or she may represent.

According to instructions sent out by the War Department and the U. S. Bureau of Education, each and every child in grammar school and high school is asked to write an essay of four hundred words. The principal of each school to appoint a board of three judges who will select the best essay from that school. This selection will then be forwarded to the recruiting officer in whose district the school is located. After which this recruiting officer will appoint another board of three for the purpose of selecting the best essay from his district, the essay to be judged on the grounds of originality, expression and sincerity.

From the fifty-five recruiting districts in the United States the recruiting officers will then forward the best essay from their district to the War Department in Washington.

over to the board of final awards, consisting of Sec. of War Baker, General March and General Pershing, which will select the three national winners.

No restrictions have been placed upon the contestants except that they must be in attendance at Grammar School or High School either public or private all under this heading being eligible for competition, as it matters not whether their race be black or white, red or yellow. The essays will be written mostly with pen and ink on but one side of the paper only to be used. All winning essays must be sent to the district recruiting officer not later than Feb. 27. His best to be forwarded to Washington not later than April 10, the day when the final award is to be made.

In addition to the trip to Washington

The War department has announced that parent or guardian may accompany the child, the expense of both to be paid by the department.

The purpose of this contest is to awaken the spirit of Americanism in the younger generation and to acquaint them with the new peacetime army which is as much different from the old army of other peace or war times as the day is different from the night. The new educational feature of this army is to make it one of the greatest bodies of its kind in the world, for in it each man devotes practically all his efforts to the study and practice of the vocation or profession which he intends to follow upon leaving the service.

Practically every known trade or profession is now being taught in this army by the foremost instructors of America who have been engaged for the purpose of making the American soldier the best trained and best educated individual on earth. The officers who graduated from the Military Academy at West Point have been assigned as well in order to carry out the new educational plan.

State Sets New Record For Highest Tax Rate.

The local, county and state taxes collected on real and personal property this year, will reach over $11,000,000 according to the compilation which are being made at the office of the state tax commission. The average tax rate throughout the state is 18 mills as compared with 14.63 last year, and is the highest ever assessed in the state. That taxes have been bounding up at a rapid rate in Wisconsin during the past few years is disclosed by the records at the tax commission. In 1906 the total taxes collected for local, county and state on the general and personal property of the state was $23,267,646. The tax rate throughout the state averaged 10.53 mills.

Indians Nearly As Numerous Now As When Columbus Landed.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Despite popular belief that the civilization forced upon him by the white man means his ultimate extinction the North American Indian, surviving from a long period of desolation, has shown such substantial increase in population in recent years that he probably is scarcely less numerous today than when Columbus discovered America. Startling as this assertion may be to those who have pictured American forests in the discoverer's time as swarming with red men it is freely advanced by experts of the government's Indian bureau, who maintain that the Indian necessarily formed a exceedingly scant population which probably at no period materially exceeded the total of 333,702 Indians reported by the bureau for last year.

1,471,267 Died In 1919; 477,467 Due To Influenza.

Washington.—The death rate in the U. S. for 1919 was the highest on record according to the census bureau's annual mortality statistics, which show 1,471,267 deaths for the year, representing a rate of 18 per 1,000 population. Of the total deaths 477,467, or over 32 per cent were due to influenza or pneumonia, 386,967 having occurred in the last four months of the year.

Cattle Are Drowned.

Portage.—Eleven head of cattle and two horses were drowned in the Fox river on the farm of Henry A. Gunderson near here. The animals ventured out on the ice to drink, when their weight caused the ice to give way.

HEALTH NOTES.

Extension Division, University of Wisconsin Health Instruction Bureau.

OH! WHAT A NOISE.

Did you hear that noise that sounded like a young fog-horn? That's a youngster blowing his nose, and because his method is the common method of blowing the nose, among children and adults as well, I wish to say a word or two about the harm that follows.

Our ear specialists tell us that deafness is often due to severe blowing of the nose while holding it firmly either with or without a handkerchief. These experts also agree that a considerable percentage of middle ear diseases, some cases resulting in suppuration, is due to the same faulty method of blowing the nose. When the blowing is so severe that the Eustachian tubes are dilated and the drum membranes forced outward, some damage is being done to the ear.

The proper way to blow the nose is to put pressure on either nostril with the hand or handkerchief. No more force should be used than when a handkerchief is held an inch or two away from the nose. When this is done, there is no backward pressure of air in the Eustachian tubes and infection is not carried up to the middle ear.

Let us remember that one should never blow his nose with force without holding a handkerchief before the nose and mouth. Let us remember also the purpose of a handkerchief is not to prevent the air from escaping outward, but rather to catch infectious material which may be forced from the nostrils, thus endangering others and often being responsible for the spread of disease.

Public Gatherings Stopped.

Richard Democrat: According to reports made to Health Officer Delap on Monday afternoon, there are 113 cases of the much dreaded and dangerous influenza in the city, forty-four families being affected. This is not a serious condition of affairs, the percentage of families affected being small compared with a total of the city's population, but it is sufficiently serious to call for action on the part of the authorities, looking to preventing of a further spread. Therefore all public gatherings at theaters and halls, including movies and dances, are prohibited until further notice. The prevalence of the disease is not by any means confined to the city, whole families throughout the country districts being ill.

Buying Fireworks. Better Be Careful.

Retail grocers and others should be wary of buying a supply of fireworks for use next Fourth of July, according to the industrial commission. This advice is given because some wholesale dealers in fireworks are getting retailers throughout the state to lay in a supply on the strength of a statement that the law which forbade the use of fireworks last year is no longer effective. The order of the industrial commission relating to fireworks which became effective Sept. 1, 1918, has not been repealed.

—According to the figures made known by the bureau of internal revenue at Washington, there are fifty-five millionaires in Wisconsin. Of these one has an income of $500,000 a year, one $400,000, five $300,000, nineteen have $250,000 a year and twenty-nine have $100,000 a year each.

—The great increase of motor traffic across the river at Prairie-du-Chien is causing agitation for a new bridge. At present all traffic goes by ferry and last year 4,700 motor cars were taken across in this manner. Next season a larger ferry goes on with possibly one more. The present ferry pulls two barges with a capacity of fourteen cars.

—Hearty Kirch and the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Rynn, both ill with pneumonia, are said to be improving slowly. There is a great deal of sickness both in the village and throughout the country, the doctors believe on the jump day and night. It would be impossible for us to give a list of all the places where there is sickness in the family. Pneumonia, grip, and some of the predominate ailments.

—Protect Yourself.

Policy holders of the Mazomanie and Black Earth Mutual Town Insurance Co., should note that part of article 5 of the by-laws, which specifies: "and no payment shall be made upon the policy of any member hereafter written, who shall sustain a loss, if such member at the time of such loss shall be in default and shall have neglected or refused to pay each assessment at the expiration of thirty days from the time specified in such notice sent to him." It will be seen by this that policy holder who has no protection when he has failed or has neglected to pay each assessment as per notice sent.

—Big Cool Sale.

I have just returned from Chicago, where I purchased my spring stock. The factory men tell us the mills are now working on worst-falls and winter's materials, and the price is still going higher. Now I have a good line of woolen, serge, and children's winter coats which I am going to close out below cost to make room for my spring stock, which is arriving daily. If you are contemplating buying a coat next winter, now is your chance to buy for less than half of what you will pay next winter. It takes too much space to quote the sale price of garments, so I will just list some at $5.00 a piece, coats at $2.50 and $4.50 and up, children's at $1.50 and up. Also have children's cotton, serge and gingham dresses, which must be closed out. —Stanley.

—Don't forget that we buy the cheaper sewing machines. We buy them for cash, and sell them for less than agents who so greedily sell on commission.

Grounding Falls To See Shadow: An Early Spring.

If the grounding came out of his hole Monday, no glittering sunshine frightened him back to his hole, and according to the age-old story, an early spring is coming. If he had seen the sun he would have gone back into his hole for another six weeks of winter repose. According to Doc Waddell, the eccentric man and story writer, the cold weather hoodoo that hangs around friend Grounding and Feb. 2, is to be taken seriously. He says it has been tested out at the winter quarters of the big circuses and that he himself has applied the test.

—Train Leaves Tracks.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train No. 47, Madison and North Macgregor, was derailed Sunday about a half mile east of Cross Plains. The front trucks of the coal tender left the tracks on a sharp curve while the train was going about 30 miles an hour. It bumped over the frozen ground about 1,200 feet before the train was brought to a stop. The train was delayed one hour and a half.
