Nine Saddles To The Horse.

When Thompson's colt swam the river to get a drink of water, that was thought to be about the silliest thing ever. Yet that performance was excelled many times during the late world war. And it was a man, not a yearling colt, that broke the record. Astonishing things were done, during the war, many of which, doubtless, have not yet come to light.

The Government's leather (hond) expert ordered 545,000 high grade army saddles for just 104,000 cavalry horses. This is about nine saddles per horse. Just why that expert figures he would need such a lack-lust of saddles for those horses has never been ascertained, but his mental performance clearly puts him in the same boat with Thompson's colt. See if you can solve the riddle; nobody else seems to be able to.

Again, another leather-expert ordered enough harness at one time to require in their construction 300,000 more hides than the Government could procure in a year's time.

Still another expert (1) ordered six ballocks, five nose bags and four covers

A piece for those cavalry horses, and another one purchased four carry-overs for each of them.

But another "dollar a year" man pulled the biggest "bone" of them all. He purchased two branding irons a piece for those horses—not ordinary steel branding irons either, but made of copper and fearfully expensive.

To cap the climax, another expert ordered that the horses be branded on the hoofs, regardless of the fact that the marks would grow out in a few weeks.

Varily, Thompson's fool colt had plenty of company.

Alleged Assailant of Viola Girl Claims Innocence.

Richard Center—Arraigned in court at Richland Center Tuesday, Frank Roach, alleged assailant of 12-year-old Ruth Barclay, entered a plea of not guilty.

Roach, who was taken from Racine, where he was captured 24 hours after the crime was committed, arrived at Richland Center in the custody of Sheriff Spay at midnight. There was no sign of the lynching party that at one time it was rumored would meet him.

Third prize and numerous special prizes, besides county prizes in every county in the state will also be awarded at the same time. Similar prizes will be offered for the finest American cheese in two classes from any county in the state.

—At a recent meeting of the Chautauque Association it was voted to reject the contract offered by the Traveler-Newton Company as being far beyond our ability to carry. This by no means indicates that there is no desire for a chautauque. Mazomanie wants and needs such a source of uplift and inspiration, and all should be willing to help to secure it. Since the above decision was made, the representative of the Chautauque Association Company has been in town and offers a contract on easier terms. A meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 11, 1920, at 8 p. m. at the school house, to determine what action to take with regard to his contract. Let us have a large meeting so that the committee may feel that the entire community is back of it.—By order of President.

The Largest Water Power Development In Southern Wisconsin

The above plant of the Wisconsin River Power Company annually generates some 100,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy which is distributed over nine counties in Southern Wisconsin. This development of natural resources saves the people of the state at least 200,000 tons of coal a year.

An industry supplying such a prosperous territory as Southern Wisconsin with an acknowledged necessity at such a great saving is a big factor in the growth of the territory and naturally grows with it. Such a company is thus assured of great success and stability.

The WISCONSIN RIVER POWER COMPANY offers the people of this community an opportunity to own a part of this great business thru the purchase of its 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock. This is a Home Company, operating in your home territory and supplying your local needs.

The excellent management of this Company together with its great success and stability makes this offer an exceptionally safe place to invest your surplus funds, earn a high rate of interest and help the growth of your home territory.

Let us explain this opportunity more fully than it is possible to do here. John Walter, of Mazomanie, will gladly do so or one of our representatives will call if you will address a request to the Bond & Stock Department of

SEES IN HARDING BEST TRADITIONS, IDEALS AND HOPES

Nominee's Former Pastor Still Boosting Man Who Will Be Leader and Not Dictator.

FINDS IN SENATOR NO TRACE OF RADICALISM

Declares Justice, Kindness and Mercy
Stand Out as Foremost Characteristics of Republican Candidate.

Included among the Minnesota Republicans working faithfully and enthusiastically in behalf of Senator Harding, is Rev. D. B. Martin, of Winnetka, Minn., formerly pastor of the Marion, Ohio, Baptist Church and Senator Harding's pastor. The other day Rev. Martin was asked just why he is so enthusiastic about Senator Harding, and this is what he said:

"It is a peculiar pleasure for me to continue the work which I began twenty-five years ago. It was my privilege to stand on the side lines and boost for Senator Harding when he received his first nomination for public office. When he was a candidate for the senate I was visiting in Ohio and had the pleasure of boosting for him. It is, therefore, a peculiar pleasure to join with this bunch of Minnesota boosters in seeking to put Senator Harding over, in the greatest gift within the power of the people. Being a clergyman, I have been constantly asked by my friends at the college commencement in Michigan, in Chicago and in Minnesota why I am such a persistent booster for Mr. Harding, and I have been asked to state in this presence my reasons for doing so. There are three:

"The first pertains to certain elements of his character. I will give you these as I received them while I was pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, of which Mr. Harding is a member. I asked him and a group of other men to make some Sunday evening addresses. I do not remember much that Senator Harding said at that time, but I do remember very distinctly the words with which he closed his address and which have stood all these years as outstanding elements of his character to me. He closed his address by a quotation from the Prophets, in which he said, 'And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee but to do justly and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' Those characteristics of Mr. Harding's life—characteristics which are always attractive and make a man's life worth while.

"The second reason is because I believe that there is focused in him the best traditions, ideals and purposes of the great Republican party and so peculiarly fit him to be their leader in this great crisis of the nation's life. I use the word 'leader' advisedly, for it is leadership that we are needing and not arbitrary, dictatorial, autocratic rule. We have had enough of that. If a boss is desired there would be no need for making any change, for the boss that we have is the bossiest.

"The third reason is because I find in him no trace of radicalism. To me radicalism is the greatest danger that we have to face. Our interests are too diverse to admit of anything of that character. We have our agricultural group with its interests. We have the labor group with its interests. We have our financial interests. We have that other great group known as the public, that has always been made the 'goat' with its interests. All of these are of vital interest to the common weal and I believe that Senator Harding is broad enough and sympathetic enough so that the interests of each will be blended in the common interest of all, and all will be perfectly safe under his leadership."

"READ THAT, MR. COX"
AND MR. COX DID READ.

Senator Cox's recent campaign visit to New York indicates that the Democratic nominee is striving to forget certain indirect editorials which appeared in his newspaper, the Dayton News, before the owner of the paper, appeared to the Presidency.

As the Democratic nominee was leaving the Hotel Commodore after lunching a commercial traveler forced his way through the throng of curious spectators and thrust into Mr. Cox's hand an editorial clipping which proved to be his denunciation of the commercial travelers of the United States. "Read that, Mr. Cox," commanded the traveling man. The Democratic candidate unfolded the frayed column of newspaper matter, glanced at the heading, scanned the first paragraph, flushed scarlet to the ears and crumpling the offensive and offending editorial in his fist, humbly saying, "I am sure that those near him at the time would regard and hurried to his waiting auto.

In 1904 one of Mr. Cox's newspapers denounced the army of traveling salesmen as "unintelligent bores." What would he say now that he desires their votes?—South Bend (Ind.) Tribune.

"I am all the time praising Tanlac to my friends and I have a good reason for doing so, for it has relieved me of my troubles and made me feel like a new person," declared Mrs. Roy Williams, of 818 National Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

"For two or three years my stomach was in a badly disordered condition. I was forced to give up coffee, meats, potatoes, everything fried or the least bit heavy, and live on a diet of just the lightest foods. But no matter what I ate, three or four times a week I had severe attacks of indigestion that nearly drove me wild.

"I suffered so from nausea that often I couldn't retain a thing, and at times I had severe pains in my side and the worst kind of cramping pains in my stomach. My complexion was muddy and sallow. I was weak and run-down and in just about as bad condition as a person could be and still keep going.

"But from the way Tanlac took hold of these troubles it seemed as if it had been made especially for my case. I commenced to improve right off and now feel as well as I ever did. I have such an appetite I feel like eating all the time, and I can eat just anything I please, and never have a touch of indigestion.

"My complexion has cleared up and my friends are constantly speaking of how much better I look. I have so much more strength and energy I feel good all the time and just can't say too much in praise of Tanlac."

It was that policy which led to the introduction of the straight side automobile tire,
the pneumatic truck tire.

And you can't beat it.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed of mileage.

It will pay you to talk to us about tires, if you are looking at them from a business standpoint.
