When Wintry Winds Blow Loud

"This morning I am sitting in my comfortably heated office. Outside the window I can see bits of snow sweep past on the wings of an angry wind that moans and groans and threatens to penetrate the walls of my comfort."

"The telephone on my desk seems to nod cheerily at me and say, 'At your service, old man. No need of your going out in the cold today. Let me run your errands. Let me sell your goods. Let me carry your voice a thousand feet or a thousand miles.'"

"And I agree, for my telephone is not only a faithful servant to my comfort and my convenience but in the best 'line' on my sales force as well."

"DRIVE ON!"

Christmas Greetings, 1925, by Charles Elbert Whelan
Madison, Wisconsin

If the road to your goal seems a little bit rough.

Drive on!

If the people you pass seem sarcastic and gruff.

Drive on!

If you hope to arrive there is much to endure.

And some parts of the way you may have to desert.

But with faith in yourself your destiny's sure.

Drive on!

Let the joy of accomplishment brighten your path.

Drive on!

Do not regret the wealth that the other man hath.

Drive on!

For the test of your life is not what others do.

With their time and their talents the long journey through.

But your measure of life is alone up to you.

Drive on!

It's your life you must live and your goal you must make.

Drive on!

There's no parallel line to the course you should take.

Drive on!

On the highway you travel be swift as you may.

For each mile is a journey, each moment a day.

Heavy toll you must give for the hour of delay.

Drive on!

To the urge of ambition, the wide challenge, the stage.

Drive on!

The whole world waits the fruitage which industry brings.

Drive on!

If you're weary, just turn in my gateway and rest.

In my heart you'll find room as my work-hound goes.

When returned in your spirit, more sure at your best.

Drive on!

PEOPLE'S STATE BANK	... Greetings ... ONCE more has Father Time wended his way through twelve long months, and recorded the events of the year, important or insignificant, upon the indestructible calendar of the past. Upon the written pages of 1925 is inscribed in golden letters the many deeds of kindness, the many avowals of love, and the innumerable blessings which our people have enjoyed. It is also burdened with a history of suffering, troubles, and death, among all classes. It has been a year of great advancement and improvement. It is a year filled with pleasant memories, and the ties of friendship have been more closely knitted together by the many social and business associations. We take this opportunity to thank our customers and friends for their patronage and good will during the past year, and we trust we may be able to continue our pleasant relations during the year just begun. We hope that the New Year, with its new life and great expectations, may bring you and yours boundless happiness and prosperity.

MAZOMANIE, WIS., JAN. 1, 1926.

Some mean that the pigs fed this new ration reached the market weight of 200 pounds 20 days before those fed on the ration of corn and tankage alone, thereby saving about a month's labor in feeding and caring for the pigs.

Still more important was the saving in feed. The pigs given only corn and tankage required 1175 pounds of corn and 47.8 pounds of tankage for each 100 pounds gain, while those fed the efficient combination, needed only 278 pounds of corn, 31.4 pounds of tankage, 19.6 pounds of chopped alfalfa hay and 10.6 pounds of linseed meal to make this gain, a saving of 19.7 pounds of feed in putting on each 100 pounds of pork.
