SCHOOL NEWS

This Friday we play Spring Green here. Everybody out.

The play "Tudor" is being practiced every day. It will be given in March.

Clyde Jones and P. H. Wright are going to attend the "Older Boys" conference at Sun Prairie, Feb. 22-23.

Kenneth Nienhoff, Ella Wilson, and Carl Fritz have received certificates of proficiency from typewriter companies.

The following second graders received 100 in spelling: Marion Clark, Alice Hawley, Scott Rivers, Anna Karl, Madelon Walter, Kathleen Lindley and Margaret Caranagh.

Main High Debates Sask City 20-0. Last Friday night the Mazomanie team broke up and found the basket.

Many may say it's about time, but all the games they lost were hard-fought games. By the way the team won last Friday night they showed the spectators they knew basket ball.

Clarence Probst and Harold Niederer each made three field goals. Russell Kling and Joe Hodgson each made two field goals.

It is not only who make the basket that count. Those whose names appear mentioned must have played a good game too, to stop Sask from scoring a point.

M. H. Second Team Debates Avois. The Mazomanie Second Team played the Avois boys played their first game last Friday evening. Mazo defeated Avois 16-0. This game was a real test to the operators as they had not realized that the second team was so good.

Samson started off with a bang. Coach, who played water for Mazo, at the play of most of the team. The guards played a very good game. Mazo guards were James Mier, who shot Victor Wainio, back, Olevio who played guard the first quarter.

It was back he was put at forward. Mazo ran and Hugh Hodgson started the game at forward. They both played an excellent game.

Hugh Hodgson was the star of the evening. That of the sixteen points, he made twelve-five field goals and two free throws. But Bob deserves some of the credit, as he played a nice passing game and fed Hugh.

The other points were made by Bob and James, each of whom made a field goal.

Arrows must be given credit also for the hard, clean game they played. For a team that hasn't a place to tread, they played an excellent game.

You'll Understand Some Day

Oh, little men, whom God has given me
To cherish and to nurture through the years
Or childhood, how it hurts my heart to see
Your faces clouded with unbidden tears.
Oh in your trustful eyes the flash of tears
That suddenly disturb your spirits glad:
And drive the shadow of suspicion away!

At times it grieves me most because I know
Your tears are prompted by an act of mine.
Some effort on my part to help you grow
In harmony with Nature's great design.
I wish that every moment you could share
Upon your busy little world of play
And life would be an endless holiday!

I wish that everything you want to do
Could be accomplished in the way you planned.
But oh, so many tears must come to you
Before your baby mind will understand
The laws that rule our actions and demand
A penalty for every word or deed
That violates what Wisdom has decreed.

And so, dear little men, I hope some day—
Perhaps when you have crossed the Great Divide—
I hope that then your manly spirits may
More readily believe your father's word.
To be your friendly comrade and your guide.
Oh, maybe you will thank me for those tears
When you recall them in the after years!

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Sexton.
Mrs. Lorraine was born August 17, 1867, in Troy, Rock County, Wisconsin. She began teaching school at the age of fifteen years, and she taught seven years of Rock and then twenty schools. She was married to Lewis Sexton, January 7, 1890, and went to the farm home in Berry, where she has always resided, and where she died, after a lingering illness, on Friday, February 22, 1920. Mrs. Sexton was a devoted wife and mother and deeply interested in the welfare of her community, her state and her country, and in the better things of life. Her interest in the spiritual life was very evident, and she manifested that interest when her failing health detained her from church, by questioning her family about religious services. She patiently bore her physical suffering which took her to the sleep of the blessed.

She leaves to mourn her death, her youngest two daughters, Vern and Irene; one son, Earl, and a grandson, Dean Lewis; also two brothers, William of Edmund, Wash., George of Mohler, Oregon, and five sisters, Mrs. Rosa Lee, of Chicago, Mrs. Della Borg, of Sank City, Mrs. Annie Weyand, of Prairie du Sac, Mrs. Ella Gillette, of Mazomanie, and Mrs. Berdie Mink, of Sank City. All were present at the funeral held at the home of the sister, Miss Clara, preceded her in death two years ago. The funeral was held at the home at 1:30 Monday afternoon, Rev. A. J. Solheim, of Mazomanie, speaking most comforting words. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stewart, of Black Earth, sang. She was laid to rest in the Mazomanie cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

To the many friends and neighbors who so ably assisted us during the illness and burial of our wife and mother, we heartily extend our sincere thanks. — Lewis Sexton and Children.

Cow Testing Associations Invaluable Aid to Milk Production

Getting more milk from fewer cows is the aim of the cow testing association. Handicrafts, cow have demonstrated in a most striking manner that the weeding out of non-productive milk cows and better care for the producing members of the milk herd pay big dividends.

This point was strongly stressed in an exhibit at the International Dairy Exposition held at Indianapolis last October. An official statement was given which disclosed the following facts:

A milk producer had a herd of six milk cows producing 21,600 pounds of milk annually. He joined a cow testing association. The first step taken was to wean out the non-productive cows, and he found that by culling inefficient milk cows he had a profitable increase over all above feed cost.

His weeding out process left only four cows in the milk herd. But those remaining cows were fed according to their individual requirements. As a result of beneficial feeding measures was realized. During milking months, they were given plenty of clean, fresh water. Cows were kept clean; the long hair on flanks and udders were kept clipped. The
