This great highway leads to market!

JUST as houses are located on the streets they face, so this community is definitely located on the Milwaukee. All the outside world knows the address, because this railway is the safe open road to the markets of the world.

Its trains bring you with unfailing regularity the things you need from other cities, other states, other nations even. They take away the fruits of your labor—your grain, your produce, your livestock, your dairy products. No matter where your market is, the railway finds it. No matter what you need from the outside world, the railway brings it to you.

There are 60,000 employees of the Milwaukee alone whose brains and labor and faithfulness to duty guarantee that the products of your toil will reach their destination in safety. Sudden floods may put an end to river traffic; severe storms may bottle great ships in their harbors; but the iron horse goes on forever, never stopped for more than a few hours in the tremendous task of keeping communication open.

The railway grew with the growth of the nation. It continues to grow with the growth of the communities it serves. And as it grows it improves to meet every demand of progress—because the railway must always lead in order to meet the tremendous increasing needs of transportation.

For 75 years the Milwaukee has shared notably in the development of the West. For 75 years the co-operation of farmers and settlers has helped to make it one of the great railway systems of all the world.

To My Garden

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

The time I spend on you each Spring
Could well be used in other ways,
I find my style of gardening
Is not the kind that pays.

I rise before the birds awake
And labor on till breakfast call;
Again at five my tools I take
And dig till shadows fall.

I spade a quarter-section patch
And sow with care a million seeds;
I pray that every one will hatch—
Then let you go to weeds!

RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

E. J. Melichard, the well known expert from Chicago, will personally be at the Grand Hotel, Janesville, Wis., on Thursday, Sept. 16th, and will be at the Park Hotel, Madison, Wis., on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 17th and 18th, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Mr. Melichard says "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" will not only hold the rupture perfectly, but will contract the opening in thirty days to the average size—usually giving the permanent relief without any ill strain regardless of the size and location of the rupture.

WARNING: Do not expose yourself to the danger of curing old style trusses with underbraces. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump and not on the rupture opening. This often causes strangulation that usually necessitates an immediate surgical operation or results in actual death.

"The Vacuum Rupture Shield" has no underbraces, no straps around the body or legs. It is also perfectly sanitary and practically indestructible, and should be kept in the home. Only gentlemen are admitted to call at this time as a special shield will be made here later for women and children.

Notice: "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" can not be fitted by mail. Every case must be seen personally. Please note the above dates and hours carefully. Strictly no charge for demonstration. Address all correspondence to E. J. Melichard Co., White Hall, Michigan.

—Paul H. Wright, who taught here last year, has been elected to the position of principal and assistant principal of the industrial school for boys at Washington.

—To those who have never seen Silver King before—we can only say: You have never seen the advent of greatest animal actor. Thousands of people have understood, who are ready and willing to do his part as it is always an outstanding star in every picture he appears. See him and know horses.

—Miss Alta Whitmore, of Tuna, back, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson, of Wisconsin, and Fernet Voss, of Milwaukee, were Sunday visitors at the E. W. Voss home. Mrs. Peterson remained for the week. Miss Marion Voss has gone to Elgin, Ill., to resume her work as teacher, and Miss Irene Voss has gone to Chicago.

IT'S TIME TO PREPARE FOR WINTER.
The days are getting shorter—the nights are getting cooler—the sky is beginning to frown, and the scarlet runners are coming from the sad heart of the earth like poems of regret. But this store is geared up to care for the coming needs of young and old.
For "the infant in the nurse's arms" there's cozy underwear—silk and wool stockings, soft as zephyr—leggings—knit suits—all sorts of wearables to keep it warm as toast.
For the school boy, "with his shining morning face," there are smart English style long trouser suits—warm overcoats and sheep-lined coats—sweaters, blouses, all kinds of cold weather breakers.
For the lover, "sighing like a furnace" and tossing upon a mid-night pillow, there are our striking Fifth Avenue clothes that give him that look of ultra-preciseness.
For the staid man, "with eyes severe and beard of formal cut," there are our conservative styles, with just color enough to give them style appeal. And for the man who's shifted into the "lean and slipper'd pantaloons, a world too wide for his shrunk shank," we have our sedate comfort clothes.
And for the maid and maiden—for the lassie and the flapper we direct attention to our new Fall Silks in the deep warm wines—the seductive wood browns, and the unbelievably rich deep greens. $2 and $2.50 per yard.
You'll find variety here, and variety is the spice of life. In the philosophy of the venerable "Old Joe" Mahoney who used to say: "A little sweat, a little split gait," all split by golly too much back ache."

HARNESS AND SHOE REPAIRING

Mazomanie, Wis., Sept. 8, 1936.

R. G. Dabbling is now located and settled in his new harness and shoe repair shop on Madison street, next to the library, all signs up and in possession with all his modern machinery to take care of all the work that comes his way, which of course I always appreciate very much. Makes no difference, is it harness, or it is shoes. Matters are now complicated, the work may be, by making tendency of all kinds almost a life study has taught me to do all kinds of harness repair work.

I am also in position and prepared to see auto light shoes in old auto harness, and also repair old harness, which is when they need new patches on. So all I have to say is, for the present, call when convenient, and I will prove to you when I can do any line of business. Also keep in stock all kinds of saddle hardware to repair all kinds of harness with, also keep in stock all kinds of extras to repair all kinds of shoes with.

So now I will thank all my customers for the repair work they sent my way in years gone by, and I am now seeking for the further trade. Thanking one and all, ladies as well as gentlemen and smaller children, knowing that you will all remember me as a friendly neighbor, and I will assure you I will do my part as near as I can.

As no doubt most of all the people around here do well know, that during my 25 years in your little city of Mazo, I have had, now and then, hard luck, such as sickness, also losing my place of business twice during these years—once business was starting at me, and the last time, about three months ago, a fire as you all know burned clear to the ground. But I am one of these things that never give up on this earth. I have proved this time and again to all my many friends. I shall try to keep on doing so until my number is called to depart to the next world, when arriving there I shall try to do better than ever.

Thanking you all for the past kind favors you all extended me in years gone by, I will say good-bye for the present.

Your old stand-by,
R. G. DABBLING.

At The Majestic Theater.

"Fig Leaves," which comes to the Majestic Theater Saturday evening, contains more feminine beauty than Figleaf has been able to assemble since he started glorifying the American girl. The technician scenes are extremely beautiful. "Fig Leaves" is the story of the first woman who said "I've got nothing to wear." The scenes were the latest thing in fashion, in the technician scene, these appear gorgeous. One of the outstanding features is the marvellously beautiful animal color fashion show in which appear scores of the most beautiful girls in the world.

"Fig Leaves" is an unusual offering of the season because it includes the scene beauty with comedy, in dealing with a theme of appeal to every man and woman in America.

What can it be? I can't say—I can't sleep—I don't want to—I don't want to—I know I'm not happy—I hope I'm not crazy! Everything seems rose red—the blotted thing has gone to my head! It has me white; it has me dizzy; I put salt in my coffee, pepper in tea, O, dear! I wonder what'll become of me—I don't know what's the matter—this heart of mine goes pitter-patter—Oh! now I know! "It Must Be Love." At The Majestic Theater, Sunday.

"Roasting for Cupid." For Vilma I have never, is to be seen at the Majestic Theater next Tuesday. This is a screen version of Peter B. Kyn's famous story of New Mexico ranch life, in which George O'Brien and Anita Stewart have the leading roles. The entire picture is full of scenes that bring heart chills and then laughter.

Cecil B. DeMille's production, "The Volga Boatman," with William Boyd, Alton Felt, Victor Varconi, John Faye, and Theodore Kosloff, comes to the Majestic Theater next Wednesday. A tremendous picture of modern Russia, romantic yet more a romance, melodramatic, yet vastly bigger and fiercer than mere melodrama—a human story of the love of a princess and a plebeian boatman, filled with tragedy, appeal, humor, remarkably gripping, swift-moving, fascinating, absorbing. Incomparably the greatest film achievement of the decade—Cecil B. DeMille's masterpiece.

Featuring the story by Stewart Edward White, and some of the most striking scene backgrounds ever used in making motion pictures, Fred Thomson's latest, "F. R. O. release, "The Two-Gun Man," will be shown at the Majestic Theater Friday next week, September 17. This is probably the first time the work of an noted writer as Mr.

White has been utilized as a western material, and the distinctively different treatment accorded the production makes it by far the best thing Thomson has yet done.

Why Do Some FORDS Run Better than OTHERS?

There's a long list of things that might make the difference. But at the head of the list and most important is "good lubrication." It's been honestly estimated that 80% of car repairs are caused by poor lubrication. Then, why should you risk your Ford on questionable oil?

Mono-Motor Oil also meets Ford factory specifications, it meets and beats the friction and heat test and saves the difference yourself.
