For County Superintendent of Schools.

(Paid Advertisement.—Ordered by W. N. Mackin, 116 W. Gorham street, Madison, Wis., and for which he has paid $20.00.)

William Nelson Mackin is a candidate for the Superintendentcy of the schools of the Second (or Western) District of Dane county. Mr. Mackin, who has taught at Verona and at South Madison, was for ten years county superintendent of Rank county. The following will tell of his excellent record as a superintendent:

"Extract from a letter by the leading progressive of the eleventh congressional district of Wisconsin: LadySmith, Wis., Feb. 26, 1921. Mr. William Nelson Mackin of 116 West Gorham street, Madison, Dane county, Wisconsin, formerly residing at LadySmith. Mr. Mackin's services as County Superintendent were entirely satisfactory and for four successive terms the people of this county re-elected him as Superintendent of Schools. At the end of that time he was not a candidate for re-election. Had he been, it is my belief that he would have been unanimously elected again. He has served as principal of schools in different places for several years with success and is a man who is well versed in the educational needs of the county and state and well qualified to fill the position of County Superintendent in any county.

(Signed) T. M. Thomas.

Pathe First in Quality!
Now to be First in Volume.

Not a price cut, but a Sensational Timely Position. Pathe has reached leadership in Phonograph Quality. No one who knows disputes that. But Pathe creators have even greater ambitions. They want to sell more Phonographs than any one else in the world. They want to be FIRST in VOLUME.

Puts $40.00 in Your Pocket.

Pathe had moved the clock back seven years in order to move their business up to first place.

They have prepared for this sensational drive $20,000 of the handsome Pathe Special Model, on what would be the "Pre-War" cost, making the immensity of the production justify the special price.

And thus to get the volume, you will get the $125.00 machine and $25.00 worth of records (your choice), $150 worth for $110.00.

So we announce, for the Pathe people, the most sensational phonograph price proposition since 1914.

Mr. Ellis intended to withdraw his name, if he could legally be done so, but he was positively refused to run for president. To save the cost and trouble of a special election (it being understood that a president can be appointed), Mr. Ellis has consented to remain on the ticket, on the condition that Mr. Walter, his second choice, be appointed trustee, and this we understand, has been done by circulating nomination papers. TELEPHONE NUMBER 12.

MADISON, WIS., MARCH 25, 1921

—Mack Brandon, instructor in agriculture, and Miss Mattie Sallibury, supervisor of arts, at the St. Paul, Minn., high school, are spending the Easter vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Shields and family.

—Fred Dussault was host to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welch, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fostering, D. Harrigan and Miss Adeline Higgins at a special six-course dinner served at the Maas Lunch, Sunday, March 20th.

—M. J. Zanzl told us the other day that the Palmer Garment, which he sells, comes from the oldest firm of garment makers in the United States. He said that he does not say much about this, because the firm has such continuously young ideas. But we think a reputation that has stood the test of over seventy years is worth bragging about.—A.

—Orders received at the recruiting office, 465 Jefferson street, Milwaukee, Wis., from Marine Corps Headquarters Washington, D. C., direct a resumption of recruiting for the corps. Applicants may enlist for three or four years, after passing the required physical examination. Applicants must be not less than twenty years of age, height not less than sixty-five inches, and weight not less than one hundred thirty pounds. Only men who are as near physically perfect as possible will be accepted, and whom the recruiting officer both mentally and morally. Illiterates cannot be accepted.

—The High School Operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," given at the Majestic Theater, Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, was a success throughout, and reflects much credit upon Miss Kaisermann and the pupils who took part. The house was filled to capacity both evenings, and the total receipts were announced as exceeding $130.00. To give the operetta at the movie theater, where there is no stage, required a considerable amount of labor in preparation, but this difficulty was satisfactorily overcome. The orchestra, consisting of Mrs. H. M. Lappier, Carol King, A. G. Ellis, John Slack, Fostering, Yess, and H. J. Linley, and the accompanist, Mrs. F. L. Griswold, also came in for their share of praise during the performance.

—Trazer, Iowa, Star-Clipper, March 18: "Trazer lost one of her plouster business men and earliest citizens by the death of William Stuart, who passed away last Thursday evening after an illness of two years. He was afflicted with pericardial aneuria. Last year he spent several weeks in charge of specialists in the state hospital at Iowa City and so improved that his family and friends were led to believe he would recover, but they were soon doomed to disappointment. Will Stuart was one of the most familiar figures in the respect of more of our people than he. He was born in Arena, Wis., October 9, 1854. He came to north Tama, Iowa, 1887, locating upon land still owned by members of it. Just south-east of the residence portion of Trazer. Mr. Stuart married Crislie Harrison at Arena, Wis., January 7, 1887. Their children have been born to them—Jessie G. of Yakima, Wash., who holds a responsible position in the educational department of the state, and Carroll, who is a doctor of prominence in Chicago. Deceased was a member of the Congregational church and of the Masonic order.

VETERINARY ADVICE.
To our readers: This column is edited by the Staff of Graduated Veterinarians employed by Dr. H. D. Linker, Hope, Arkansas, and they will answer all letters addressed to him by readers of the Sickle regarding any disease of livestock and how to treat it. This service is free to all readers of The Mazomanie Sickle.

External Hindrances to Easy Milking.
Especially in the winter time, even the gentlest of cows become fractious and unruly when being milked. This is generally caused either by a soreness or inflammation of the udder, or by chapped teats or warts or growths upon the teats. The two latter causes are really the most common and are the easiest to overcome.

Chapped teats.—These may be caused by anything which irritates them. The powerful sucking of the calf; the sudden chilling of the teat in winter after the calf has just let go; or after the completion of milking with a wet hand; contact with cold water, lot wash or irritants when lying down; slight congestions of the skin in connection with over stocking; and, indeed, any source of local irritation may cause chapping. This may be slight or extended into great gaping sores and induce retention of milk or even inflammation of the bag.

Soothing applications of vaseline, or a combination of equal parts of spermaceti and oil of sweet almonds may be applied. If healing is tardy, add ten grains of balsam of Peru to the ointment. If the irritation is great, wash first with a solution of the following:
Sugar of Lead.....1 dram,
Water.....1 pint,
then apply benzoinated oxide of zinc ointment.

Warts on the teats.—These are often very troublesome, yet they may be greatly benefited or entirely removed by smearing them thickly after each milking with pure olive oil. If they persist they may be cut off with a sharp pair of scissors and the sore touched with a stick of lunar caustic. They may now be oiled and the caustic repeated as demanded to prevent their renewed growth.

Scabby teats may be smeared with vaseline containing enough carbolic acid to give it an odor.

Figures to Make Advertisers Think.
The Herald has a circulation of four hundred houses in a radius of six miles in this community. The average family numbers four persons. This means that sixteen hundred persons, who do almost all their reading in Ohio, are readers of the Herald. Advertisers then have a field of sixteen hundred persons which they can reach through the columns of this paper.

Advertisers pay fifteen cents per single column inch for their space in the Herald. It costs therefore $600.75 per inch of advertising for each family to read or $4000.00 for each person, or read one inch of your advertising. If you have anything worth any price at all, it is worth advertising in the Herald.

fit of the merchants of Ohio who advertise in this paper, and also for those who do not. We would like the latter to think this over and if they still think advertising doesn't pay, we might be persuaded to give them some space free.—Herald, Ohio, Ill.

(The Sickle circulates among more than four hundred families within a six-mile radius of Mazomanie, and the charge for advertising space is ten cents per single column-inch to regular continuous advertisers, five cents per inch to occasional advertisers.)

Edgar Rice Burroughs

This writer has had a life experience calculated to develop imagination and the ability to delineate adventure and romance. He has been a soldier in the regular army, a miner in Oregon, a cowboy and storekeeper in Idaho, a policeman in Salt Lake City, a sales manager in Chicago and in 1917 was major of infantry in the Illinois Reserve Militia. In 1918 he took up writing as an experiment and produced the first of the "Tarzan" stories. It was instantly successful as have been some of his subsequent work which succeeded it. Today, he stands alone in this country as an author of thrilling, purely imaginative fiction. "A Princess of Mars," one of his most fascinating creations, has been selected for serial reproduction in this publication. Do not miss the opportunity.

An optimist is a man who carries a pocket-square.
