CHURCHES :: SOCIETIES

O. E. S.—There will be a regular meeting of Orient Chapter No. 3, O. E. S., Tuesday evening, September 27, by Order of the W. M.—Sec.

The Community Church—Rev. Geo. V. H. Shepard, pastor, Services, Sunday, September 25, 1921, 10:30. Morning worship; subject of sermon, "The Conservation of Spiritual Resources." 11:45, Sunday school. A Rally Day service to which the parents and friends are cordially invited, 9:30, Christian Endeavor, 7:30, Evening worship, subject of sermon, "The Vital Touch."

The series of lecture sermons to be given by Dr. J. B. Koehn in the Community church beginning next Tuesday evening is worthy of your attention. Make it a point to be there Tuesday night.

M. E. Church—Next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the pastor W. P. Burrows, will preach on "Larger Barms For Bigger Crosses." Sunday school at the usual hour. Edward Leane at 6:45 p. m. Services at Mounds Creek at 2:30 p. m.

The togetherness social at Black Point last Tuesday evening was a success notwithstanding the threatening weather. A large number of Mazomanie people attended. Dr. Chase, district superintendent for Madison, was present and held the first quarterly conference, after which he delivered an address on the needs of the work and the parts which each member should take in helping the pastor make the church a greater power in the world.

Come to church and hear the gospel of Christ.—W. P. Burrows, Pastor.

WHERE THE MONEY CAME FROM

Source of Funds for Highway Construction and Maintenance.

There is a rather general misunderstanding as to the source from which the state secures the large sums required for highway construction and maintenance.

In the first place, it may be said that the money for highway construction comes from the state treasury. This is not true. The money for highway construction comes from the state treasury, but it is not the state treasury that provides the money. It is the state treasury that provides the money for highway construction, but it is not the state treasury that provides the money for highway construction.

In the final apportionment of Federal aid granted prior to the present session of Congress, Wisconsin has received $7,000,000. This is the state in order to secure this has had to provide the same sum. This Joint Federal and State fund is apportioned to the construction of highways. One-third in proportion to area, one-third in proportion to assessed valuation, and one-third in proportion to highway mileage. Each county is required to provide an amount at least equal to one-half the sum apportioned to it from the Joint Federal and State Fund.

The state in order to meet the requirement to duplicate the Federal appropriation, provided for a tax that would bring in at the first of the next three years—1920, 1921 and 1922 the sum of $17,000,000. In addition to this sum of $7,000,000 for each of the three years, and the additional sum of $100,000 per year for those years were appropriated from the general fund of the state.

In addition to the sums named there is used in highway construction maintenance something over $300,000 per year received for automobile licenses. Since the legislature in 1919 provided for a duplication of the Federal appropriation, the revenue for highway construction, the state's share of the automobile receipts has been devoted to road maintenance. These license receipts are disposed of as follows:

First the actual cost of administering automobile registration is paid from the license fees received; one-fourth of the remainder is then paid to the counties in the proportion that the license fees received from each county bears to the total license fees. From the remaining three-fourths, there is first set aside a sum not to exceed $168,000 for the State Highway Commission to pay the costs of administration. The balance then is used by the State Commission for construction, maintenance, or both, of the State Trunk Highway System.

MYSTERY
"While Miss Phyllis away George took care of her parrot."
"Did anything happen?"
"I don't know. She kept the parrot in the cellar now, and the engagement is off."

More than $240,000 was earned last year by the common and dormitories of the University of Wisconsin.

NO PERMITS ALLOWED.

Only Non-Intoxicating Fruit Juices Can Be Made, Says Statute.

The hopes of home brewers, wine makers, and distillers came down with a dull, sickening thud, Monday.

The prohibition unit of the treasury department issued a statement declaring illegal:

1. The manufacture of any intoxicating beer, wine or spirits in the home, even for strictly private home consumption.

2. The manufacture of any beer or wine of any alcoholic content without a permit which permits are may not be made.

3. The sale of any beer or other "mixing" to a person without a permit, which permits are not issued to home brewers.

Non-intoxicating fruit juices is all it is legal to make without a permit.

The statement, intended to dispose of reports that permits were being issued for home manufacture of wine and beer, said:

"Non-intoxicating fruit juice may be made in the home. Intoxicating wine, home brew, and distilled spirits may not be made."

"Two hundred gallons of non-intoxicating fruit juice may be manufactured tax free by head of family by registering with collector of internal revenue."

Cases Dismissed in Madison Court.

Six liquor cases were dismissed in superior court at Madison on Wednesday morning for lack of evidence. They were dismissed on recommendation of District Attorney T. G. Lewis. Those held were: Tony Bruno, Pete La Bruzza, Sam Wendt, Mrs. Sam Wendt, Mrs. Lena Treppel, and Joe Laund. The two witnesses, Special Policemen Harrington and Quinlan, upon whose testimony the alleged liquor law violations were held for trial, were convicted of serious offenses and sentenced to Waupun for two and three years, several days ago. Mr. Lewis, therefore, has no evidence against those charged.

Fifth Largest Potato Yield.

Wisconsin will have the fifth largest yield of potatoes among the states this year, according to reports from the agricultural department at Washington. The state yield, while not as big as in former years, will be large. The grade of potatoes will not be as good as formerly, but the total crop for the country should reach 225,000,000 bushels, compared to a ten year average of 271,000,000 bushels. Sweet potatoes will yield about 110,000,000 bushels this year. The department also indicated that there was little fear of a high price movement later in the year. The present prices are almost as high as the tuber should go, it is said.

Admits Theft of Diamond.

Christ Hoodland, of McFarland, who was charged by Tetter Olson, also of McFarland, with the theft of a $250 diamond ring and a lady's gold watch, admitted stealing the ring in superior court at Madison, Saturday, but denied any knowledge of the watch. His case was continued.

MANY COURSES AND CLASSES.

767 Courses of Study Offered This Semester

A total of 767 different courses will be given in the 76 departments of the University of Wisconsin during the fall semester beginning this week, according to the new Time-table of classes just published. Within these courses there will be 1,478 sections or individual classes.

The 35 departments of the College of Letters and Science will offer 324 different courses in 1,018 sections or individual classes. The 22 departments of the College of Agriculture will offer 132 courses in 248 sections. The 21 departments of the College of Engineering will offer 111 courses in 212 sections.

The Law School has 22 courses.

Some of the large elementary courses have scores of sections or classes meeting at different hours under different teachers. Elementary Economics, courses Ia and Ib, has 64 sections. Freshman English, courses Ia and Ib, is given 68 classes, in addition to 1010 sub-freshman classes. There are 22 algebra classes. First-year French is given in 21 classes, and second-year in 28 classes. There are 36 classes in first year Spanish, and 17 classes in second-year.

A 40-page booklet is required to list the courses of the new year and between 900 and 1,000 professors, instructors, and assistants will be required to carry on the classes and lectures.

2.75 Per Cent Average Advance in Prices

Washington.—General wholesale prices increased 2.75 per cent in August over July levels, wholesale food prices leading with a jump of 13.5 per cent, the Department of Labor announced this week.

Farm products were 2.5 per cent higher, decided advances being shown in butter, cheese, milk, eggs, rice, meats, sugars, fruits and potatoes. Cattle and hogs also advanced higher. In all other commodity groups, except clothing, the statement said, there were decreases in prices ranging from 1 per cent in the case of building materials to 4 per cent for metals. Clothing showed no change.

Since August, 1920, farm products have declined nearly 47 per cent, while 40 per cent and building materials 20 1/2 per cent. The average annual decline in all wholesale commodity prices was given as 39 per cent.

Old Man and Wife Die on Same Day.

The entire village of Cassville mourns the death of two of its oldest residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Okey, whose deaths occurred Sunday at their home, only a few minutes apart. Mr. Okey has been failing in health for some time, while Mrs. Okey was not confined to her bed until several days before her death. A double funeral was held Tuesday, with interment in a large single grave.

The Ideal Furgative.

As a purgative, Chamberlain's Tablets are the exact thing required. Strong enough for the most robust, mild enough for children. They cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any of that terrible griping. They are easy and pleasant to take and agreeable in effect.—Adv.

CANCER DEATHS REDUCED

State Board of Health Beginning Campaign of Education.

With the knowledge that deaths from cancer can be reduced one-half through an understanding of certain facts regarding the disease, the Wisconsin state board of health is beginning a definite campaign of education which it is believed will have far-reaching effects. In order that the nature and seriousness of the problem confronting the people of the state may be better appreciated, it is stated that there has been a steady increase in the cancer death rate since 1911. During the past two years there have been nearly 5,000 deaths attributed to cancer in Wisconsin, a greater number than during any preceding biennium. During the same period there were 175,000 deaths from cancer in the United States.

Cancer is primarily a disease of adult life, the greatest number of deaths occurring between the ages of 35 and 55 years. Moreover, the affliction is more prevalent among women than men. Of all the deaths in persons over the age of 40 years, one in 13 among men is due to cancer, while among women of this age one in eight deaths is due to this cause. Between the ages of 35 and 45, three times as many women as men die of cancer; between 45 and 55, twice as many. These figures indicate strikingly that cancer attacks those in the prime of life. This disease, moreover, attacks rich and poor, educated and ignorant, careful and careless, alike, choosing as the time of its insidious onset the most useful period of life. Thus cancer makes its appearance when the care and guidance of children and the business responsibilities are most pressing. In order that suffering and death from cancer may be notably decreased a thorough campaign of education is obviously necessary. Early diagnosis, prompt and skilled treatment are the keys to the campaign against one of the most insidious and exacting diseases known to mankind. The board of health is planning such a campaign and looks for it to be keenly followed.

EXPLOSION IN WAR PLANT

One-thousand Killed, 5,000 Injured In Blast in Germany

Mayence, Germany, Sept. 21.—A great explosion today at the chemical products plant of the Badische Anilin- und Fabrik Company at Oppau, on the Rhine, wrecked the town and spread death and destruction in every hand. The number of killed is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 1,500 and the injured close to 5,000. One report says there were 3,000 men on the spot at the moment of the explosion and it is believed that half were killed. The town of Oppau is a scene of desolation. More than a third of the houses have been destroyed. The roofs of the others were swept off as if by a whirlwind. Many were killed or injured in their homes.

Reports from the scene describe the disaster as due to the explosion of a gas or spirits tank.

CAPITOL OPEN ON SUNDAYS.

Visitors Will Be Able to See Interesting Parts of Building.

The state capitol building is to be opened to the public on Sundays and holidays. This action has been taken by the state board of public property by Morrissey's office, and the capitol was opened to the public last Sunday. The senate and assembly chambers, the railroad commission hearing room, the governor's reception room, and the doors leading to the capitol dome will henceforth be open. The supreme court chamber, which is not under Mr. Morrissey's supervision, will not be opened, it is understood. The judges are said to be opposed to opening the chamber.

Johnson Pardon Hearing Next Week.

The pardon hearing of John A. Johnson, who is serving twenty years at Waupun for the killing of little Annie Lemmer, September 13, 1911, will be held in the hearing room of the railroad commission, September 27. Johnson was convicted on his own confession. He was taken to Waupun the day he made the confession and, on the way, told the sheriff he was guilty of the crime, having confessed through fear of mob violence. Judge Henry Casan and O. A. Stolen are his attorneys.

—The University of Wisconsin opened its first day of classes yesterday with an enrollment officially estimated at from one hundred to three hundred larger than the attendance of 7,000 last year. Exact figures are not yet available. Attendance at the nine state normal schools will be from 1,200 to 1,400 greater than last year, according to unofficial estimates.

—Richland Democrat.—Because of the failure of the county fair which was raised out of existence last week, and the consequent disappointment of thousands of people who annually make such meeting a home coming and gathering place, the fair managers are presently arranging for a race meet and base ball tournament, which will be given at the county fair grounds on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 6th and 7th. The race program of last week's fair will be the special feature and practically all of the fifty horses entered last week have returned their presence here on those dates.

HYMENEAL

A very pretty home wedding took place at two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon September the twentieth, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornell, when their only daughter, Miss Olive, became the bride of Louis Brockmann. Only immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Zank, of Sauk City, under a large wedding veil. The room was tastefully decorated in pink and white. The bride was gown in ivory white satin and silk georgette, she wore a veil of silk net and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns. Miss Mabel Huest was bridesmaid and was gown in pale blue voile and carried a bouquet of pink roses and ferns. Charles Brockmann, brother of the groom was best man.

Supper was served to the guests by Miss Myrtle Senech, cousin of the bride and Miss Edna Brockmann, cousin of the groom. A number of valuable and useful presents were received. The young couple will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

A variety shower was given Miss Olive Cornell, at her home on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. L. W. Brockmann and daughter, Miss Edna, were hostesses. A large number were present, many useful presents were received and a good time was enjoyed by all.

CATCH 'EM WHEN YOUNG?

Excursion After Easy Money Ended on the Scaffold.

By EDGAR TAYLOR HOLLOWAY.
Copyright, 1921, American Press-Service.
A certain young man, whose name and the full details of whose life it is not necessary to repeat here, died in the Cook county jail, Illinois, in the autumn of 1920. A jury had decided that he was a menace to society and must be removed.

Became a Spender When a Boy.
This man had acquired extravagant habits when youth by frequenting pool rooms, cabarets, dance halls and other pleasure resorts with the result that he took to petty stealing in order to raise money to pay the piper. An arrest, a term in Pontiac and a parole followed.

In a serial feature of this case consists of a series of articles printed in one of the Chicago newspapers under the heading "Beating Back," in which this young man pictured himself as a repentant sinner struggling to regain a respectable position in society and an opportunity to make good and earn a honest living. Of course the identity of the individual whose story was told in the articles was not disclosed until later.

Given Chance to Make Good.
As a matter of fact a position was given him by one of the large industries. He was placed in a position of trust and paid a living salary; he knew from actual, personal experience what habits of extravagance would lead to; his story as it was related to the newspaper reporter demonstrated beyond question that he had nothing further to learn on that head. But the habits acquired as a budding youth apparently were too strong for him. He was a systematic course of embezzlement from the first and in the end committed murder in a moment of panic while attempting to hold up a motion picture manager in order to get easy money to help him out of immediate financial difficulties. Arrest, confession and the scaffold followed quickly.

Merely a Typical Spender.
This young man belonged to the spending class, like all criminals. All spenders are not criminals but all criminals are spenders. It is a fact that the criminal class are notoriously hard up practically all the time.

On the other hand, the savers are the people who come to own property. It is estimated that but 42 per cent of the families in this country own their homes, and it is safe to estimate that 16 per cent of the home owners belong to the saver class.

The best way to educate savers is to catch them when young and show them what they may expect to find at William Bird spoke at the A. C. church last Thursday night. He also held a baptismal service at the Wisconsin river Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olson were married.

Mrs. A. E. Reiman died at her home at Helena, Thursday, Sept. 15, after a paralytic stroke which she suffered on Monday. She was a sister of William (Camel) and Mrs. E. Hanks. The funeral was held, Sunday, with services at the Congregational church at Spring Green.

U. S. To Cut Rate For Bank Loans
Washington, Sept. 21.—Lower bank rates at an early date were predicted after the advisory council of the Federal Reserve Board met.

New York and Boston federal reserve banks, both of which have a flat rediscount rate of 5 1-2 per cent will be the first to make cuts.

Officials of the Federal Reserve Board refused to divulge details, except that say there had been a most ex-tion and that easier money conditions were an outstanding factor.

Trove in reserve bank disbursements will exert a healthy influence immediately upon credit. The strength of the Federal Reserve System and its ability to meet future emergencies is clearly indicated by the almost unprecedented reserves registered for some of the big districts of the East and middle West.

HALF-LEARNED LESSON

Idle Money, Like an Idle Man, Earns Nothing.

By EDGAR TAYLOR WHEELLOCK.
(Copyright, 1911, American Press League.)
During a Liberty loan drive in a large city while the world war was raging, there came to a bank where subscriptionary a member of his own race was in charge of the booth and negotiations were soon under way.

Would Trust the Government.
The man, it appeared, had been a citizen of the United States for a number of years, but had never learned to speak the language of the country.
Some friend had told him the government was asking the people to lend money to pay the cost of the war and was offering its bonds as security for the loan. He had confidence in the stability of the government and was willing to intrust his savings to it.
After going over the ground carefully and being informed of all the facts relating to the proffered bonds, the rate of interest, date of redemption, etc., the old man drew from some secret recess of his clothing a wad of old, soiled, musty bank bills of all denominations aggregating more than $2,000, and indicated his desire to exchange this money for bonds.

Thrift Had Become a Habit.
Here was a case where a man, born and bred in a country where Thrift and Frugality were not a matter of choice but a positive necessity to a great majority of the citizens, had continued to live in America as he had lived in Europe. He had inherited the Thrift instinct and it had become a confirmed habit by enforced practice. This habit had enabled him to accumulate the sum he was now prepared to turn over to the government in exchange for interest-bearing bonds.
But during all the years he was putting his savings away, unused by him, in his secret hiding place, he was losing money; his savings would have earned had he put them to work. He had not spared himself, for he had continued to work and earn and save all the years of his life, but he permitted his money to loaf and earn nothing.

Savings Should Be Kept Busy.
The lesson of Thrift learned in his youth, was only half learned after all.
The idle money may be drawn on in case of emergency, it is true, but money that does not work and earn and gain nothing while it is used and leaves nothing behind to take its place, whereas, if it is made to earn interest its earnings frequently may be used to meet the emergency, leaving the principal intact.

A Pronounced Success.
The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.—Adv.

Fast friends leave you as soon as you cut down on the speed.

Miss Susie Evert, Orville Wittelberg,
Roy Harter, and Mr. and Mrs.
Paul Schumann, all of Madison, spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Edmond Schumann.

Miss Della Schumann and Erwin Brockmann were united in marriage at the St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2 o'clock p. m., September 14. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Schumann, Carrie Brockmann, cousins of the groom acted as best man.
Their friends and relatives wish them good luck and happiness.

"Canned Heat" Is Poor Drink.
When a man in an unconscious condition in Brittingham park at Madison last Monday by police and taken to St.
Mary's hospital, was found to have been suffering from alcohol poisoning, according to Dr. Sommer, who attended him. He is said to have consumed six cans of "canned heat," and according to Dr. Sommer, the major portion of the concoction is solidified alcohol. He was able to return to his home on Tuesday.

Strange Frank of Lightning.
When a bolt of lightning entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Gubrie, of Milwaukee, Saturday, it killed a canary, which was kept in a small cage with two other little mates. The bolt entered the house near the chimney, broke three windows, scattered plaster over the bedroom in which Gubrie and his wife slept, flashing only eight feet from their bed, and then entered the kitchen where it wrecked the stove and killed the little bird. The canary's mates were not touched.

HE KNEW IT
