CHURCHES : SOCIETIES

The Community Church.—Rev. Geo. V. R. Shepard, Pastor. Services, Sunday, January 22, 1922: 10:30, Morning worship; subject, of sermon, "Jesus' Attitude Toward the Pleasures of Life"; 11:45, Church school. 6:30, Christian Endeavor. 7:30, Evening worship: "Why a Christian Should be Baptized."

M. E. Church.—Dr. Chase delivered a very helpful address on "The Two Swords" last Sunday evening to a large audience. The sacramental service was enjoyed by a large number. Quarterly conference was held after the church service. Among the things of interest discussed was the matter of a new parsonage for the whole charge. The district superintendent, Dr. Chase, informed the conference that there was $1,000 available from the church building funds to help in the construction of a modern parsonage on this charge. The committee appointed last year, consisting of George Knicht, Percy Beve, and Willis Turk, was authorized to proceed at once to secure a parsonage and report to an adjourned meeting soon to be called. If a home already built cannot be secured, preparations are to be made for starting a new building in the early spring. Now is the time for members and friends of the Methodist church, on the whole charge, to forget the past differences and jealousies and unite in getting a modern home for a resident pastor on the charge who will stay, become acquainted, and build up the Kingdom.

Next Sunday the pastor will preach at 10:30; subject, "How Sin Exposes Your Character." Sunday school at 11:30 a. m. Epworth League at 7:30 p. m. The new year files; make it a church-going year for yourself and family. You are always welcome.—Rev. W. P. Burrows, Pastor.

Scherbel presided the wedding ceremony, and presented them with a silver framed silver wreath. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing, playing games, etc. The silver wedding cake was brought by one of the guests, and was beautifully trimmed with silver. It was also Rev. and Mrs. Scherbel's forty-fourth wedding anniversary, and a beautifully decorated cake was brought in honor of their anniversary. OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hodgson, Mrs. Henry Kirch, Mrs. Geo. Hawley, Miss Edna Feyer, James King and Gen. E. H. H. were at Madison, Tuesday.

By the observation, who has been in charge of the Brittingham & Hixon lumber yard at this place for several years, has resigned from that position. His successor, Leiland Bowers, of Oregon, took charge of the yard the first off the week.

—Hartwell Farwell, wealthy Vienna farmer, who Saturday in a signed statement, confessed that he shot and killed Philip Hosten, of Windsor, his sister's sweetheart, Tuesday of last week, and then attempted to burn the body of his victim beneath a haystack near Port age, will face his preliminary hearing in superior court at Madison, Tuesday, January 31, at ten o'clock.

—Does Mazomanie need a band? It needs one for the sake of our young people, from the business point of view, and to make a live town. Think this over and come to the village hall next Wednesday evening, January 25th, at eight o'clock. Do not say that you will join after you see that a band is organized. That may never be. We need all the old hand men and several young men. Be a booster.

—E. W. Voss' dog, who was poisoned a week or so ago, just missed a trip to dog heaven, and has apparently recovered. It does not seem possible that any human being can be so utterly heartless and depraved as to throw out poisoned children, but, alas! It has occurred so many times in Mazomanie that one must reluctantly admit that such persons exist.

—Mrs. Geo. A. Shilds spent Wednesday in Madison. She is vice-president of the Dane County League of Women Voters. The executive board and other officers had as their guest at a dinner in the Capitol Cafe, the state president, Mrs. Ben Hooper. At eight o'clock Mrs. Hooper gave a lecture in the hearing room at the capitol. It was for the public as well as for the league of women voters, and was largely attended.

—The program committee of our Social Center is pleased to report that Debut. Gov. Conings has been secured for an address January 27. The address will be followed by a social hour spent in visiting and dancing. It has been deemed best to charge a small admission fee and tickets will be issued for 15 cents. Only those attending the address will be allowed on the floor for dancing. Remember the date, January 27; time, 8:30 o'clock; opera house.

HYMENEAL

Hammerly-Murray.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hammerly was the scene of a quiet wedding, Saturday morning, January 14, 1922, when their youngest daughter, Angelina, became the bride of Harry Murray. The home was prettily hung with pale blue and white streamers dotted here and there with wedding bells. Under an arch hung with wedding bells the bridal party took their place at 11:30, and Rev. W. P. Burrows pronounced the words that unite them man and wife. The young couple was attended by Miss Eva Jones, and Walter Hammerly, brother of the bride. The bride wore a traveling suit of midnight blue, with a blouse of lilac blue silk lace and satin mesaline. Only the immediate relatives were present. After the ceremony, the bridal party and guests sat down at a table beautifully but simply decorated with mallards, and partook of a most delicious dinner.

The bride was an under-graduate of our high school, and the pianist at the Methodist church. She was active in her work as well, and will be greatly missed by the young people. The groom is well known here; as he has lived here for a number of years past. He is at present employed as a transferer by the Mackinac Cement Co., of Madison. The young couple left by car in the afternoon, for Madison, where they will make their home at 1209 Elm-street. They are followed by a crowd of wishes from their sunny friends for a long, happy, and prosperous life.

Instead of fiding away your time bragging about your ancestry, why not get busy so your posterity will have something to their ancestry to brag of.

Mazomanie to Little Poultry Show.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 24th and 25th, The Mazo Poultry Association will hold their annual poultry show at the village hall. The Association has engaged prominent poultry men from the U. W. as speakers and judges, and anyone interested in successful poultry raising should not fail to attend. Prof. J. G. Halpin, who is to act as judge, is perhaps the most prominent poultry expert in the state, and as the poultry department of the state university under his management has been working almost entirely along production lines, he will no doubt give an interesting and instructive talk on this subject. Methods of culling out the non-producers will be discussed and demonstrated, and this information is invaluable to anyone who raises poultry.

Although large entries are expected, the Association urgently requests that anyone having good stock of any standard breed enter a pen or two. No entry fee is charged, and the birds will be well taken care of free of charge. Entrants furnish feed, only. Cash prizes for first and second best pens will be awarded, as well as many special prizes donated by the business houses of Mazomanie. All pens to consist of three pullets and one cocker, and are to be entered on or before Monday evening, January 23, 1922.

There will also be a cash prize awarded for the first and second best pen entered in the utility class. By the utility class we mean a pen of three hens or pullets to be judged on egg-production qualities.

All prize money and expenses are to be paid from the admission fund. Family tickets priced at $1.00 entitle entire family to enter at any time during the entire show. Single admission is charged in 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Tickets on sale at all stores and at the Poultry House.

A Pronounced Success.

The union meeting which attended the use of Chamberlain's Cough and Bronchitis Remedy in the relief and cure of colds, coughs, and croup, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.—Adv.

MODERN DAY MIRACLES

The Stored-up Sunshine of Other Ages Is Handed Down as a Heritage to Modern Civilization

(Told in Eight Sketches)
By JOHN RAYMOND

No. VI PREHISTORIC SUNSHINE

Coal may well be described as prehistoric sunshine. Ages before the dawn of our own era vast forests covered large portions of the earth's surface. In this ancient vegetation were stored up the treasures of nature and after the lapse of ages it became the heritage of civilization.

For centuries after it came into use coal was looked upon as valuable only as fuel. Later coke was obtained from it, then sulphur and lampblack, and finally gas for purposes of illumination. That seemed to be the limit of its possibilities a few years ago but today it will be difficult to enumerate all the articles of commerce extracted from its by-products.

Coal contains a little of everything that goes to make up trees but it would be a mistake to imagine that everything that comes out of coal tar is contained within it. While there are only about a dozen primary products extracted from coal tar, from these the chemist is able to develop hundreds of thousands of new substances. This is synthetic chemistry, or the process of building up intricate compounds step by step.

New material for the development of these coal tar by-products—war materials, fertilizers, colors, drugs and a host of other things—exists in abundance in this country, but we must be sufficiently interested in our future to depend upon it to save it. We can not go on and on, German himself when he realized that with the rubber in the laboratory almost limitless power the control of the dye industry would give him when he thought of it. He felt that with the control he could win in a war against the whole world. And few indeed are those who think of it. They know that the chemical industry that has been developed in this country is to make ourselves masters of the chemical industry in its ramifications, raising science to the knowledge that if we do so no power on earth can overcome us for lack of war materials.
