BLACK EARTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Barnes, a boy, Friday.

John Hopkins, T. M. Clough, and Mrs. Aldrich were Madison visitors.

Mrs. Yankowitz, of Whitecenter spent several days here with her brother, Ralph Lee, the past week.

A number of our citizens went to Fish Lake, Sunday, as guests of the Boy Scouts, who camped there for a week. Rev. Burrows is scout master. Some good catches of fish were made by the scouts during the week. Last Saturday, Duncan Ballies landed a ten-pound pickerel, and on Tuesday, Wellefne Gillette captured two, one weighing fourteen pounds, the other sixteen and one-half pounds. Omar Pappey, of this place, was also fishing at Fish Lake, Tuesday, and caught a ten-pound pickerel.

Fire broke out in the Hausmann building shortly after noon, Wednesday, and the brick building together with all contents, was completely destroyed. The fire started in Ray Hermann's tire vulcanizing shop, on the ground floor, and spread rapidly, consuming his entire stock and outfit. Ed Carpenter had a shoe repair shop, and a small stock of new shoes, on the same floor, and his stock and tools were also completely destroyed. The upper floor was occupied by the Martins-Mickelson Post, American Legion, and this organization lost all their furniture and paraphernalia, excepting their guns, including the old G. A. R. flag, together with considerable borrowed material which was to have been used in a play given at Cross Plains, Thursday evening.

During the early stages of the fire, Bert Kohl was severely burned by an explosion of what is thought to have been a tank of acetylene, receiving the full force of the explosion in his face. S. T. Ballies and H. W. McKenzie, who were near Mr. Kohl outside the burning building, felt the force of the explosion, but were not in the line of the flame. Ed Carpenter and Christ O. bright were also slightly injured during

MARKVILLE

W. C. P. Weinschenk, of Mazomanie, is putting a new roof on the Markville Granary.

Martin Walser, of Prairie du Sac, spent a few days this week visiting at his brother's, Peter Walser.

Mrs. J. Back and Mrs. Louie Bush, of Middleton, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Walser.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Niendorf and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Walser, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Anna Schallheuer and son, Willie, of Madison, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ann Hawley and family.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Endres on Monday evening, in honor of Mr. Endres' birthday anniversary.

Teachers' Examination.

A teachers' examination for those intending to teach in the Second District of Dane county will be held in the Supervisors' room, Dane county court house, Madison, Wis., June 16 and 17, 1922. GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP MAZOMANIE

Many women will profit by the following statement of one of their sex: "I was afraid to eat on account of stomach trouble. Even rice did not agree. After taking Adler-Lika I can eat anything." Adler-Lika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach or sour stomach. Guards against indigestion, flatulence, etc.

practically in ruins that a stream of water was secured. It is very doubtful if the building could have been saved, anyway. In the meantime, a crew of men did commendable work in saving the adjoining frame store building, occupied by H. W. McKenzie, by keeping the roof soaked with water carried up in pails. A small blaze starting up in the roof of the P. M. Co. warehouse, near the depot, was put out in like manner. When the fire was discovered, a call for help and hose was sent to Mazomanie. A hose cart was hooked up to the Mayo Motor Co.'s truck at that place and hurried to Black Earth where it was found that the hose could not be used, as the couplings did not fit. Scores of cars full of people came from Mazomanie and surrounding country at the call of "fire." The building is said to be insured for $1,200.00, and insurance was also carried on at least part of the contents.

Air-Carrying Spider.

The water spider (Argyrota aquatica), though an air-breathing creature, spends nearly its whole existence in the water. It is enabled to breathe beneath the surface by means of a bubble of air, retained in the long hairs that cover the spider's abdomen. It also weaves a dome-shaped nest under water, attached to some alga, and fits it with air, which the spider carries down from the surface, a bubble at a time.

Washes, Aerates, Sterilizes, Bleaches, and Wrings the Clothes, all at the same time.

Vacuum and Aeration—the principle on which the "Daylight" washes—makes sure that both air and sudsy water are forced down through the fabric, and then drawn up through it again. This repeated action is what brings your clothes out white, fluffy, air-blown and thoroughly clean with no pull or strain on the fabrics.

Compare blankets washed this way and those "matted" by other methods.

A story was in circulation late last week Thursday evening that a nine-year-old girl had been attacked earlier in the evening by a man who was fishing at Lake Monona. Several little girls had been having a picnic at the pond. The girls gave incoherent and conflicting reports of the affair, and a doctor's examination revealed the fact that no harm had befallen the one said to have been attacked, yet it is quite evident that something has transpired. If a woman is at large in the locality, he should be apprehended. The sheriff's office was notified, but no action was taken by that officer.

His statement follows: "I hereby announce myself a candidate for the republican nomination for sheriff of Dane county, Wis., at the primaries to be held on September 5, 1922. "I have been a resident of Dane county for more than seventeen years and am a property owner and tax payer of this county. I have had previous experience in public office, having served as mayor of Janesville, and since November, 1917, I have been coroner of Dane county. If elected I pledge myself to do my best to efficiently and faithfully carry out the duties of that office and enforce the laws of Wisconsin. "While several other worthy gentlemen, all friends of mine, announced themselves as candidates, two of whom have previously given capable service as sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to give equally as good service as any applicant for this office and I invite the voters of Dane county to investigate my qualifications and my standing in the community, and should they find that I measure up to the standard required for the sheriff's office, I would ask that they cast their ballot for me."

One must look twice at many a spring wrap to determine whether it is a cape, pure and simple, or a more complex wrap. The more like a cape it looks the better its chances of winning approval from the fashionable. The cape has always stood women in good stead, nevertheless it will not hold her allegiance season after season without modifications, and we have them in the cape-wrap. For general wear the spring frocks, among others, the graceful wrap shown here. It is made of tricotine and has a large collar trimmed with applied folds of silk braid. At the back, loose, pendant panels of the cloth are finished with silk cords ending in slender tassels. Something between a sleeve and a slit at each side of the front allows freedom for the hands and arms. Altogether this is a smart and practical wrap for general wear and is developed in several colorings and colors.

TUBERCULOSIS IS THE WISCONSIN ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS
Dr. A. A. Pleyte Advising a Patient After the Examination is Over.
THE work of the Traveling Free Chest Clinic, sent into all parts of the state by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, does more than the discovery of the disease danger. If it is a case of active tuberculosis, the patient is advised to take the necessary measures to prevent the disease from becoming fatal. This can be done and here the work of the clinic assisted by local public health nurses. The persistence of these workers in getting patients to follow the doctor's advice has been the direct cause of saving a number of lives during the past two years. It is work which needs to be extended and which will be extended if this year's sale of Christmas seals is large enough to support it.

MODERN DAY MIRACLES
The Magic of Chemistry Which Makes a Compound of Value for One Purpose in War and Another in Peace
(Told in Eight Sketches) By JOHN RAYMOND
No. VII WAR AND PEACE
The art of warfare is as old as the race itself. Warfare at first consisted of throwing stones at the enemy or hitting him with a club. The art slowly progressed. The catapult was used for hurling good-sized rocks and the bow and arrow served its purpose in hand-to-hand combat. Thus it went for many centuries. Warfare consisted of ninety per cent hand to hand work and perhaps ten per cent of shooting from a distance. Along about 1345 an old monk found that gunpowder when properly ignited, gave out a pretty good sized noise. England and France were at war and the new invention was used, and at the battle of Crécy with the result that the horse became frightened at the "noise like thunder." Losses were heavy and gunpowder was voted a success. Warfare didn't advance greatly for centuries. To be sure many improvements in guns and explosives were made but the basic principle remained the same—the only way to put an enemy out of commission was to hit him with a projectile. On the morning of April 22, 1915, warfare was revolutionized when a cloud of chlorine gas was sent over the Allied trenches wiping out whole regiments. This experiment proved so successful that the war, opening as it did, 100 per cent explosive, ended 15 per cent chemical. These war gases are of particular interest to the student of chemistry because of the variety of uses to which they are put in times of peace. Explosives are one of the most important of the war gases. Chlorine was the first toxic gas used by the Germans. In peace time it is used in the purification of water, the bleaching of paper and cloths and in the manufacture of a great many dyes, perfumes and antiseptics. Naphthalene was used in making our war-time day-light signal rockets. It is used in making such beautiful dyes as indigo and orange. From these few examples it will be readily seen why it is so simple a matter to convert a dye plant into a war-time production plant and why so many other industries are directly dependent upon the dye industry.
