BEASTS MENACE LIFE IN AFRICA

Former German Territory Over-run With Lions—Missionaries Clash.

London.—All is not joy in the life of British officials in Tanganyika territory, formerly German East Africa. Lions, leopards and elephants menace the population; missionary jealousy widens the pagan native, and witchcraft, practiced by the wild warfare of the Moshi district, causes many helpless infants to be put to death annually.

Aspects of life in this new British territory are described in the 1922 report of the country. Big game multiplied rapidly in Tanganyika during the war. Lions frequently satisfy their taste for human flesh at the expense of life. Their boldness is incredible, and whole villages have been terrorized by their presence. In the first half of the year rewards were paid for the destruction of 300 lions and 800 leopards. In Tabora district alone 67 people were killed by lions.

Natives are Helpless. Elephants do great damage to crops, often ruining a whole plantation in a single night, or, entering the villages, they strip the roofs of grain stores and devour the contents. The native too, in the presence of disaster, and becomes unwilling or unable to help himself.

In Tanganyika witchcraft has as fatal effects on infants as wild beasts have on adult natives. To the influence of the medicine men, says the report, may be attributed the barbarous practice of infanticide which prevails among the Wapare in the Moshi district. It is a custom, says the report, of some abnormality, or the offspring of patients who have failed to undergo initiation into certain tribal ceremonies, are done to death by deliberate starvation and neglect, or by exposure to the unhealthy climate of the low country. Other parents would not of their own accord abandon such children, and in many cases have preferred to give them away to strangers.

Rivalry Among Missionaries. When the elders of the tribe were addressed on this matter, there was a decided tendency to recognize its evils and to adopt more enlightened ideas, but a few were against the abolition of the custom on the ground that the destruction of the tribes certainly would follow. According to these sages, life is altogether too precarious, and the number of acts or omissions which they can cite as being fatal is amazing; even to plant a tree was pronounced to be equivalent to dooming one's self to death.

Another difficulty confronting British administrators in the territory is that of rivalry among missionaries. "It is greatly to be regretted that a spirit of jealous rivalry has manifested itself in certain districts between Christian missions of different denominations," the report declares. "It arises from a very natural and sincere belief in the superiority of that branch of the common faith which it is their pride and their duty to preach to the heathen, but it has often resulted in an undignified competition to extend the scope of the mission beyond limits which a proper degree of influence and control would demand, and in attempts to set up schools in juxtaposition of those of another denomination. This open display of the pagan religious differences cannot but react to the damage of the Christian faith."

Natives Bewildered. "Christian missionaries, by offering one doctrine here, another done by and still another a few miles away, must achieve little more than the complete bewilderment of the pagan native, and it would be well if Christian societies would recognize that the principle of spheres of influence is ultimately to the clear advantage of Christianity as a whole, no less than to that of pagan populations."

Sample Houses Sent to Prospective Home Buyers.

London.—Sending little "sample" houses to home builders, is the plan of salesmanship being used by some London architects. These models are complete in every detail and are designed to inspire pride of ownership in the person to whom they are mailed. Facing a housing shortage, rivaling that of any American metropolis, many residents of London have bought home sites in the city's suburbs and are confronted with the problem of selecting the type of home to be built. To help them, the architects have started the new industry of building models that are mailed to possible buyers.

Bride Deserted at Church Wins Divorce

Muncie, Ind.—Asserting that her husband deserted her at the church where they were married and forced her to spend her "honeymoon" alone, Mrs. Louis Lundberg, of this city, has obtained a divorce. Mrs. Lundberg has not seen her husband since he bundled her into a cab and sent her home a few minutes after they were married, she said.

Your Long Distance Service

FROM fifteen to twenty-one telephone operators cooperate in establishing a New York - San Francisco circuit; and other telephone employees by scores must be at their posts to insure efficient transmission.

That you may have a choice of destination for your voice, a vast network of Bell System circuits interconnects all important centers, reaching millions of homes and business places.

Over these circuits more than 158,000 traffic employees stand guard. But long before these highways of speech were ready for use another army of workers had wrestled with problems of construction and maintenance.

A huge manufacturing plant had mobilized its forces. Thousands of toilers in mine and forest had sought raw materials.

Physicists and chemists through laboratory research, had laid a sure foundation for efficient service.

All the forces and wonders of industry and science have been drawn upon to serve you when you make a long distance telephone call.

"Ouija! What's the good word?"

MY YOUNG sister,
HAS A Ouija board,
AND SHE believes it,
AND TALKS to Noah,
AND I think she talks,
TO HER best fellow,
WHO'S DEAD but doesn't know it,
AND I used to give her,
THE LOUD, rude laugh,
BUT I'M sorry now,
BECAUSE LAST night,
I WAS home alone,
SO I got the board,
AND PUT in a call,
FOR JOHN Barleycorn,
AND OTHER departed spirits,
BUT THE line was busy,
FOR NOTHING happened,
THEN I cheated a little,
AND IT spelled this,
"GRAMMASHOTTA SEVEN."

SO I shut off quick,
TO HEAD off any,
FURTHER FAMILY scandal,
THEN I stopped to smoke,
A CIGARETTE,
AND AFTER a while,
I CRANKED up another,
AND ALL of a sudden,
IT STARTED off,
AND QUICK as a flash,
IT SAID something,
"THEY SATISFY."
"SATISFY" - that's the good word. Just light up a Chesterfield and see what experts can do with fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos when they blend them in that catnip-scented Chesterfield way. You'll say "they satisfy."
Did you know about the Chesterfield package of 10?

They Satisfy

—The new Wisconsin automobile licenses, which are now being distributed by the state department, will be for the cars and not permits for the owners, as was the case under the old statutes. The new law provides that when a car is sold the license plates are to be considered a part of the machine's equipment and for the new owner the owner must obtain plates either by paying the required tax or by transferring the registration that the previous owner had made to himself. When one buys a used car, he can pay a dollar to the secretary of state and thus give life to the license that previous owner had obtained. If the previous owner had not obtained a license, a new license must be obtained.
