Last Friday night the high school defeated the Alumni in basketball by a score of 23 to 21.

January 18th the Seniors will give a box social to which all are invited. Preceding the auctioning of the boxes a U. W. Chinese student will give a talk which is sure to be very interesting. The proceeds from the evening's program will go toward a memorial for the school.

The following students from the Commercial Department have received Certificates of Efficiency from the Remington Typewriter Co.: Lorraine Hildison, Evelyn Norman, Marguerite Seran, Mildred Wassmann. Others will receive certificates during February.

Friday evening the Freshmen Girls basketball team will play the Junior Girls' team. Following this the boys will play the Black Earth high school. Report Heavy Demand For Badger Dairy Cows

The sales of Wisconsin cattle for 1923 to outside buyers have exceeded those of the previous year by more than 10,000 head.

G. C. Humphrey, animal husbandry department, University of Wisconsin, says that the buyers of Wisconsin cattle are more particular about the good grade cattle and are selecting the best individual producers that money can get. The buyers demand certain standard conditions in selecting their cattle.

1. They want good grade cattle, or well known breeds and good producers.
 2. Registered cattle with accredited production.
 3. Cattle free from disease.
 4. Centralized markets, or organized communities where the selection is facilitated.
- "Wisconsin farmers have established a reputation for raising reliable cattle of dependable breeds. Community breeders' associations have been striving for many years to develop a high standard of purebred cattle, by selection, elimination of scrubs, stamping out disease with the result that at present there are many herds of good purebred cattle in Wisconsin," declares Humphrey.

Cost of Road Building Reduced By Geologists

How the cost of building Wisconsin state trunk highways is being materially reduced by the investigations made by geologists, especially through the hunting out and using of local materials, is pointed out by E. F. Bean, assistant state geologist and former professor in the University of Wisconsin, in an article on "Economic Geology and Highway Construction," which has been published as a reprint from Economic Geology.

The increased use of local materials which has been developed by the geologists' road-material investigations has not only reduced the cost of construction materially but has greatly decreased the use of railway cars for hauling road materials, he points out.

Many university geology students have devoted their summers to the geological end of highway work and this, he points out, greatly extended the scope of this work. From the students' point of view, summer field work in connection with highway building has furnished a wide range of field experience.

The first step in the geologist's investigation is to determine what types of road material are available locally for that particular project. He then recommends such local material as may be used to save freight charges or truck haul. Detailed reports are made on the results of the investigations and estimates are also furnished on the quantity of material available, conditions of quarrying rock or getting out gravel and transportation problems. The aim of such studies is to furnish good road construction at the lowest cost possible without sacrificing service and efficiency.

In addition to the financial saving, the use of the local material has direct bearing on the problem of rail transportation," Mr. Bean writes. "The use of local road materials relieves the railroad of this additional load and liberates cars for the use of coal and other commodities, and in addition prevents expensive delays in highway construction."

A number of relatives and friends gathered at the Fred Evert home on Monday evening, in honor of Mrs. Evert's birthday.

Forest Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawley, joined the Modern Woodmen camp at Marksville on December 29, 1923.

DRIVING CAR WHILE DRUNK

Heavier Penalty Should Be Placed On Intoxicated Drivers

It is high time the legislative and judicial authorities began to consider the crime (the word is used advisedly) of drunkenness when driving a motor car as something infinitely more serious than is drunkenness under ordinary circumstances. Prohibition is as yet too new for the world old cynic of the drunken man, as one to be laughed at, pitied, perhaps, but to be sober up, fined a small sum as a public nuisance, to change, at least overnight.

But drunkenness which can harm no but the inebriated man is one thing; drunkenness which is menace to all who use the streets and roads, and which via the car, converts the otherwise innocuous victim of his appetite to a potentially wholesome murderer, is entirely something else.

Sentiment is wanting over to regarding the drunken driver as one who commits more than a misdemeanor; but it should swing faster and so further. The man who, drunk, drives a car or truck, is a madman, a man without reason, without reasonability, without judgment. He puts in jeopardy the lives of men, women, and children. He endangers property. He may cause frightful loss of life, hideous maimings, terrible accidents. No maniac with a gun is allowed upon the streets; the man who deliberately makes himself a maniac and fits himself out with a car loaded with potential death for many, should be dealt with with the utmost severity. A few dollars fine, a few days in jail, the loss of a license, are not enough. The man who runs amuck with a gun, hitting and maiming gets years behind the bars. The man who runs amuck with a car while drunk is even more culpable.

Let judges once get it through their precedent bound legal mind that it is not the drunkenness, but the drunken driving which is the crime, and our already crowded hall roads will be safer for all; our children, our women drivers, as well as our sober citizens protected, as they have a right to be from a menace which has no excuse, legal or social, for existing.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

SPRING GREEN.—James Smart reports that 45 years ago December 23rd, he plowed all day on his farm on Pleasant Ridge.

Continued good word comes from Mrs. A. Schlosser, who submitted to an operation for gall stones at a Madison hospital last week.

Farmers in this portion of Wisconsin are ready for winter no doubt, as freeing weather held off until the fall plowing was pretty well out of the way.

Griffin Richard Jones was born in Spring Green April 23rd, 1854, and died at his home in Lone Rock, December 30th, 1922. He resided in Spring Green many years.

Boscobel Dial.—Ray Hilly, barber and restaurateur at Woodman village, devotes his spare time to trapping this winter. The other night he caught a muskrat that is pure white in color—the first one ever seen in this locality.

John Poll, who a year ago operated a sausage factory in Prairie du Chien, has been deported to Russia for bootlegging. John was a little more bold than most of them for he deliberately went up the main street of McGregor with two glass jugs of moon. He was picked up and taken to Elkhart and there was found guilty.—Humb News.

MT. HOREB.—Orin Toferud, of Primrose, went to Milwaukee last Friday to consult the eye specialist, Dr. Snyder.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lindard Thursday morning, January 3, 1923, a 10 pound girl.

Otto Tyvand, of Madison, died New Year's Day at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Tyvand, in this village.

Mrs. A. Holm, of Blue Mounds, formerly Miss Tillie Bergen, underwent an operation at the St. Joseph hospital at Dodgeville recently.

Forty members of the Mt. Horeb Advance Association assembled at the Mt. Horeb House Wednesday night and enjoyed a splendid supper and a pleasant meeting.

Miss Gladys Hagen, who for the past eight months has been employed as assistant in the post office, has resigned her position and has entered the Madison Business College.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jacobson at the Dr. Buckner hospital on Saturday, December 29, 1922, a pair of twins, one boy, weighing 5 pounds 14 ounces, and one girl weighing 6 pounds 10 ounces.

Selma Swiczum, daughter of S. K. and Anna Swiczum, died Wednesday, January 2, at her parents' home south of our village and was buried from the East Blue Mounds Lutheran church, Saturday.—Mail.

PRAIRIE DU SAC.—A new steel flag pole has been erected in the schoolhouse yard at Cadesboro.

Wm. Schnitz has left for St. Petersburg, Florida, to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. Samuel Babinington returned to the M. E. hospital at Madison last week Wednesday for further treatment.

Edmund Lindemer, who has been at the St. Joseph's hospital at Eau Claire because of an infection of the shoulder and minor ailments, returned home to his family in the city last Friday.

Joe Nolden and Miss Martha Von Schrenk, of Troy, were married at the Reformed parsonage Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock by Rev. C. J. Walenta. The young couple will reside in Sauk City.

Since the burglary was committed at Conner Schaefer's store, the street lights were turned on all night, but at the last meeting of the board it was arranged to run the lights in the business section until 3 o'clock and those in the residence districts until 1 o'clock.—Sauk County News.

MIDDLETON.—The Verona Cow Testing association has been re-organized.

A son of John Engeberger, of Cross Plains, is ill with pneumonia.

The house of Gerhard Dreesen, of Cross Plains, is quarantined with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Randolph Hinkel of Mazomanie attended the funeral of her grandchild, Elsie Sophie Bluecher.

Twins sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Utter, December 27, at the St. Joseph's hospital.

During the year 1922 not one death has occurred in the St. Peter's parish of 85 families, at Ashton, but increased by 21 births. There were 3 marriages during the year.—Times-Herald.

RICHLAND CENTER.—Miss Belle McNeill submitted to an operation in a Madison hospital early last week.

County Clerk Hummel had not had an application for marriage this year up to Monday of this week.

Major Jellin is very ill with pneumonia at his home on North Church street. His advanced age of 94 years makes his condition the more serious.

The sale of Christmas seals in the city on Monday had reached a total of $291. It is hoped to make it reach the $300 mark.

Half the sum stays in the city for local health work.

W. C. Fisher of the town of Eagle, living on Mill Creek, was apprehended last week by the officers for having a fresh con skin in his possession. He received a fine in local court of $50 and costs.—Democrat.

—This year the state begins to operate under a new highway law by which all state highway funds for maintenance and construction will come from a graduated license levied on motor vehicles. No highway funds will be taken from the general funds nor will there be any general property tax for roads. Thirty-six states have adopted the gasoline tax as a method for road financing and there is every indication that eventually Wisconsin must come to this method.

WOULD LIMIT SLAUGHTER OF WHALES IN ATLANTIC

U. S. Expert Warns Extinction of Mammals Is Near.

Washington.—The wholesale slaughter of whales through the use of modern weapons off the Atlantic coast threatens the extinction of these important mammals, says E. W. Nelson of the United States bureau of biological survey. Nelson urges legislation similar to that now in force in Canada to conserve the existing whales in these waters.

"It is obvious," Mr. Nelson continues, "that the present uncontrolled, wholesale slaughter of sea mammals by the use of their blubber and grivell by throughout the year can result only in their rapid extermination. During the last century the pursuit of sea mammals was carried on on a great scale and yielded an enormous return of fur seals and sea otters. Several species have been almost exterminated by this pursuit, and others will follow without concerted action. Proper control of the hunting of these mammals will perpetuate indefinitely the returns from this valuable natural asset."

"The success of the fur seal treaty, whereby through international action Japan, Russia, England and the United States safeguarded the breeding grounds of the fur seals on the fur seal islands in Alaska, has been a practical demonstration of the effectiveness of such action. It is to be hoped that a similar treaty between the nations whose people are interested may be equally effective in saving the other sea mammals from threatened extinction."

Saw From Mayflower Is Found in Medford, Mass.

Charles W. Smith of Medford, Mass., a descendant of people who came over on the "Mayflower," is shown with the hand saw presented to him by P. A. Morton, ninety years old, who originally purchased the saw from some one else in 1871. The saw was used in building King's chapel in Boston in 1746. The saw was made in England more than 300 years ago and passed through several families who were among the first settlers in this country.

Saturday morning local thermometers registered from twenty-five to thirty-five degrees below zero. The official figure given out by the weather bureau at Madison was twenty-five below. The cold continued for a couple of days.

Henry Taylor, brakeman, of this place, was thrown from the top of a box car at Middleton, Monday morning, and was severely injured. His left heel was broken in striking the ground, and he was otherwise bruised. He was removed to the General hospital at Madison. At last reports the broken bones had not yet been set.

Funeral services for George Uebel, 67, retired farmer of the town of Berry, who died at his home, 429 Sidney st., Madison, Friday morning, were held at St. Robert's church at Hoxbury, Monday at 10 a. m. The funeral cortege left Madison about 8:30 Monday morning. Burial was made in the cemetery adjoining St. Robert's church.

Mrs. John Ford, of Black Earth, aged about eighty years, is suffering from severe burns, and will probably be taken to a hospital. Last Tuesday afternoon, while fighting a fire in the stove, her clothing became ignited, and she was severely burned about the lower limbs before help arrived and extinguished the fire. She is a sister of Henry Porter.

At the annual meeting of the Mazomanie and Black Earth Mutual Town Insurance Co., held in this village Tuesday afternoon, the former officers were re-elected, and routine business conducted. A very successful year was reported. We understand a meeting is to be called later, to consider amendments to the constitution, principally relating to insurance of hay and automobiles.

Marcus Bach has made a name for himself, being one of Wisconsin's leading violin artists. He has played, and received favorable commendation, in many of the larger cities of the state. We should, and will show our appreciation of his favoring Mazomanie with a concert, by filling the Guild hall to overflowing. Previous year tickets early—35 cents for all adults, 25 cents for all school children. Tickets on sale at Shield's drug store.

In a joint raid conducted by the sheriff's office and the state prohibition department, Louis Schultz, town of Berry, was arrested when officials found a gallon jug containing moonshine in a sleigh in the farmer's yard Monday. Schultz admitted his guilt in possessing the liquor. Judge O. A. Stulen Tuesday fined him $300 and costs. Part payment was made by Schultz and time extension in which to make up the balance of the assessment.

Lavern Henn and family, of Footville, have moved to the farm recently purchased from Mr. Kottes. Mr. Jackson and family, who were formerly on this farm, have moved to La Crosse.

The Ladies' Missionary meeting of the Community church meets Friday afternoon, January 11, with Mrs. Dave Jones, hostesses: Mesdames Dave Jones, Stewart, Lees, Morris, and H. W. Jones.

Butz Bros. are moving their stock of goods to the new store. The building, formerly owned by J. A. Schmitz, has been extensively remodeled and modernized, and is considerably larger than the old quarters.

Mrs. Adalina Pierichorn, of Rockbury, was taken to St. Mary's hospital at Madison, Wednesday and underwent an operating Thursday morning. Her father, Eldore Wittmann, was at the hospital during the operation.

Total damage of more than $3,000 was done to Madison residences and business houses Friday night and Saturday by a series of 22 fires that came in close succession and kept the four fire companies at work during the 30 hour period.

To help people avoid being duped by promoters and salesmen of worthless securities and by other swindlers, the Madison Association of Commerce will have sent to persons making application, a 38 page booklet which reveals methods of swindlers.

Under the auspices of the St. Luke's Guild, Marcus Bach, popular violinist, will play a concert on Friday evening, January 18, 1924. The ladies of the Guild, Mr. Bach's accompanist, and Mrs. A. Shields will have tickets to sell. Adults 35c, children 25c. Get your ticket now.

Farmers in the immediate vicinity of Mazomanie have made definite arrangements to have 200 tons of limestone pulverized in a local quarry, under to Prof. C. J. Chipman of the soils department of the Wisconsin college of agriculture. The limestone will be pulverized by Gordon Hughes of Arena, who recently purchased a limestone pulverizer. Mr. Hughes has only lately finished pulverizing a 70 ton order of limestone near Arena and will begin the work in the Mazomanie quarry this month.
