Soils To Improve Soil Conditions.
The soils of Sauk county farms are to be the object of one of the most intensive soil improvement campaigns ever put across in the Badger state. Up to the present time, eight township meetings have been held. Each meeting was attended by as many as 75 farmers who assembled to discuss their soil problems with members of soil survey and Griffith Richards, soil extension specialist of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. It is expected that every township of Sauk county will have had a soil meeting before the snow flies. The whole plan is to make a thorough study of the soil of the county, and to determine by actual tests and experimental plots just what fertility is needed to improve the soil so that bigger and better crops can be grown. To carry out a more intensive soil educational program is what the teachers and superintendents have set out to do. Every rural school pupil will have an opportunity to write an essay on soil improvement. Prizes will be given to the winners of the best essays.

The Need Is Very Urgent.
An attack of dysentery often results from indigestible food, polluted drinking water, or sudden changes in weather or climate. Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy should be in every home, every traveler's bag, every vacation kit. A valuable medicine, dependable, safe, reliable in emergencies at home or when traveling.

Left Behind

At the Theatre.

"Buck" Jones in "Against All Odds" and Ben Turpin in "Yukon Jake" are the attractions to be shown Saturday.

Your friend, Gloria Swanson, will be at the Majestic Sunday to tell you the real inside story of "A Society Scandal." You have probably heard that Marjorie Collett, the multi-millionaire society girl, is mixed up in "A Society Scandal." Knowing something about this notorious affair, Gloria will be here to tell you the truth about it.

The "Our Gang" Rascals in "Young Sherlock" is the added attraction Sunday.

If you are one of those who are beginning to believe that motion pictures are the "bugle"—that one picture is but a repetition of another, that all of the stories are but a series of impossible situations, that there is nothing new on the screen, we say "The Stranger" to be shown Wednesday will make you sit up and take notice. It's real. It's different. It will grip you as no picture has ever done before, and when you leave the theatre, if you're not converted, then we go on to say that you're about the hardest-hearted individual that ever paid the price of admission.

READ THE ADS. IT WILL PAY YOU.

Pea Men Harvested Early Crop

Badger pea men have just finished harvesting their early varieties of pea.

"The Alaska variety averaged around 70 to 80 bushels to the acre," reports A. J. Whiting, Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

"The pea vines and foliage had an exceptionally rank growth this season as they came up to one's waist line as he walks through the pea fields," Whiting says. "Due to the rank growth of foliage, the yield was less than naturally expected."

This year's pea crop is not a bumper yield, but a crop that pea men are fairly well satisfied with, according to reports.

Whiting warns that there is one danger with the pea harvest and that is that some pea canners let their peas grow too long and become old. The quality is then sacrificed for quantity.

MAZOMANIE, WIS., AUGUST 1, 1924

On Tuesday morning James Sullivan passed away at his home in this village and the funeral was held at St. John's church.

J. J. Davies returned home from the hospital at Madison, last Friday, after nine weeks in the institution. Mr. Davies is able to get about his yard and his strength is gradually returning.

Bennett Larson has begun the erection of a garage on the property which old-timers remember as being occupied by John Frank's meat market and residence, which burned in February, 1908.

The Spring Green cannery factory began Tuesday with the best pack and things are humming at the new plant. The first beans came from the Mazomanie acreage and a force of thirty men, women, girls and boys were engaged at the plant at the time of their visit.

Fred Fredericksen, long a patient sufferer, died at his home in Spring Green early Monday morning. For a number of years he has been an invalid, his trouble being caused by a tumor on the brain. Mr. Fredericksen was forty-one years of age and is survived by his wife.

A count of vehicles passing at the intersection of highways 33 and 12 near Baraboo, made July 31st, registered 5,200 of which but eleven were team drawn. The tally was made over a period of seventeen hours and of the automobiles 1,946 bore foreign license plates and 3,254 were Wisconsin cars. The count last year was 3,938 vehicles.—Home News.

Fourteen men on a dead man's chest is the story of "The Sunkin Cornfield," is the story that is agitating the residents around Oregon, Dane county, since the bottom of the corn field on the Chas. Fairfax farm, seven miles west of Oregon on the Bellevue road, dropped into a cave, variously estimated at being from 65 to 75 feet deep. The area which was sunk is about twenty feet wide and one hundred feet long. Mr. Fairfax was plowing the corn field when he noticed a depression which seemed to be more than ordinary size and depth. On the next morning he found that the ground had given away entirely and a large cave had been formed. Upon investigating further the family discovered that the cave was only the entrance to a series of larger caves many of them so large that it is estimated that a number of automobiles could be stored in them. Searching parties who have explored the caves found a sandy bottom on most of them indicating that a water formation might be located in the vicinity and that the undermining had been going on for a number of years. The recent heavy rains might have washed down through an underground passage into the nearby landslides and caused the collapse, according to old residents who are familiar with the territory. The entire length of the largest cave has not been found due to the darkness.—The Blanchardville Blade.

PRAIRIE DU SAC—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Radand, of Dean Heights, at a Madison hospital, Friday, July 18, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steffen of Madison spent from Saturday until Sunday afternoon with relatives in the city.

Miss Jessie C. Martiny, for the past three years Sauk county superintendent of schools, has resigned her position, the resignation to take effect August 1st.

The Standard Oil Co. is having a filling station erected on the corner south of the Ferber restaurant opposite the Wisconsin filling station at Sauk City. Dresden Bros. have the contract.

The work of widening Water street at Sauk City has begun. Five feet will be added to the river side of the street in the macadam highway at Prairie du Sac.

Contractor John L. Arcola and crew are doing the work. Robert A. Patterson was born in New York City May 25, 1853. Seventy years ago next October he came with his parents to Sauk county. Five years ago Mr. Patterson came to Prairie du Sac to make his home with his

Eleven-Year-Old Runs Farm by Herself

Eleven-year-old Vytian Brown has very little spare time, since she undertook to run a 25-acre farm close by Rye Beach, N. H., all by herself. Taking in the hay, milking six cows, doing all the planning and harvesting are all in the day's work for her, and she is proving herself to be a most capable farmer, and is making the farm pay. During the winter and early spring she attends school in Portsmouth, N. H., where she is in the eighth grade.

Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Babin. He passed away on the morning of July 29, 1924, aged seventy-one years, one month and twenty-five days.—Sauk County News.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zwieterl entertained a large number of young people at a dancing party at their home last Thursday evening. A very enjoyable climax to the evening's fun was a wailer and marsh-mallow roast.

Carl Knutson Herried OF STOUTHOUGH FOR SHERIFF

Madison men have held the office many years, why not make a change?

J. HENRY BENNETT
Attorney at Law
Viroqua, Wis., Apr. 18, 1924

To whom it may concern:

It has come to my attention that our former townsman, CARL KNUTSON HERIED, who now resides at Stoughton, is a candidate for sheriff of Dane County.

Mr. Herried has resided in Dane County for the past seventeen years and from a personal acquaintance with him of more than thirty years. I can say that he has always conducted himself as a good citizen, and that he has proven worthy of the good opinion in which he is held by all his acquaintances.

He has the education, business ability and courage to make a first class sheriff in every respect and I commend his candidacy to the good people of Dane County as one who will make them an ideal public servant. Wishing him the success, his merits so richly deserve, I am,

Ex State Senator and former school mate of C. K. Herried.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that CARL KNUTSON HERIED has worked for us many years and we have found him absolutely reliable and straight forward and never used intoxicating liquor in any shape or form.

Yours Respectfully,
Stoughton Wagon Co.,
J. F. Vea, President.

Totals—76 Smiths, 36 Johnsons, 38 Jones, 32 Millers, 22 Andersons, 28 Nelsons, 27 Hansons, 20 Schmidts, and 19 Ohtons—in the University of Wisconsin student body this year.

It has its dangers, I say, it does not always win our respect, whether it be the man looking through the fence at the ball game or the student getting a passing grade by copying from the neighbor's paper.

There are various ways of looking through the fence. The man who is always looking for nothing, but it is the fellow who borrows and forgets to return the amount, the man who accepts an office or an honor without assuming the accompanying responsibilities, the employee who bores on his job, are all watching the game through the fence.

"It is easy for the man to talk," you say, "who has the money to get into the game; but how about the fellow who is broke?"—An old neighbor of mine never saw a baseball game nor held office, yet he lived an honorable happy life and died respected. One can walk to Sevey or stay at home and read O. Henry or work in the garden. It is more honorable not to see any of these crimes of life at all than to see them through the fence."

Milinery Mode Approves

White Silk Bengaline

The vague for heavy corded silk linen, charming expression in the chapeau made of heavy white ben-galine. The sectional crown as shown in the picture is a favorite for this little hat of corded white silk. There are some outstanding points of especially smart significance in this model.

One is, that the bengaline covers a firm foundation, rather than being a soft sports type. The narrow side band is a very important factor in milinery this season. It lends its charm to this model, and an added

touch of attractiveness is the white feather brush darning out from beneath the white brim. In some in-
