Young Wife Afraid to Eat Anything

"I was afraid to eat because I always had stomach trouble after work. Since taking Adlerika I can eat and feel fine" (states) Mrs. A. Howard. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Removes old waste matter from intestines and makes you feel happy and hungry. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Geo. A. Shields, Druggist.

Crime cost Wisconsin taxpayers $5,500,000 in 1922, according to Prof. J. L. Gillin, University of Wisconsin sociologist.

FROM FIELD AND FURROW.

One of the principal causes of the drift of farm boys and girls toward the city is the absence of proper provision of play and games in the rural community, rural life specialists unanimously contend.

Growing 100 bushels of corn to an acre represents a high mark in corn production. However 29 Badger farmers have certified yields running that high. M. J. Stunk, Jefferson county, tops the list with a yield of 184.6 bushels per acre.

Daniel Webster, one of America's famous stationers, and himself a farmer of no mean ability, held agriculture in high regard. He once said, as only Webster could say it, "Where tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of human civilization."

Crate fattening of poultry pays big dividends if the farmer sells direct to city consumers or if he has developed a good tourist trade. The experience of many poultrymen indicates that it is not profitable if the birds are shipped alive by express or if they are sold to car lot buyers.

Does sour cream test higher than sweet cream? Dairy tests prove conclusively that there is no difference in the fat content of sweet and sour cream. Moreover, if the tests should show a difference, it indicates that either the samples were not properly taken or evaporation of water has taken place after sampling. This also applies to milk.

When the owners of herds with an average production of 300 pounds of butterfat receive honorary diplomas at the National Dairy show, it will take a long time to read the list of dairymen from Wisconsin. Of nearly 2,000 farm herds, from 20 states, that qualify for the national honor roll, 1,214 are owned by Badger farmers. Michigan, the second state, has 1,163 entrants and Minnesota is third, with 564.

Requirements for the award include an average herd production from five or more cows of at least 300 pounds of butterfat, this to be certified by the state supervisor of cow testing associations. Wisconsin's 300-pound herds are recruited from 129 cow testing associations. One herd averaged better than 500 pounds of fat and 71 exceeded the 400-pound mark. The five cow herd of George Schmidt, Allenton-Kohlsville association, averaged 584 pounds of fat.

Today is Always Best

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Twas only yesterday, it seems, That I was just a little boy And life was filled with idle dreams And play. Oh, how I did enjoy Those happy hours too quickly sped Into the past! Soon I shall see That busy, hopeful youth has fled, And never can return to me.

Then age will come. 'Tis but a day Until my final sun will set. But I shall go with spirit gay And heart that harbors no regret. If I live manfully and face Each golden morning with a smile. If I determine to embrace The chance to make today worth while.

FROM THE DANE COUNTY HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

The funds received from gas tax and auto license fees is allotted by the state to Dane county for, first, Federal aid to construct concrete pavement on the state trunk highways. Second: For maintenance of state and county trunk highways and the allotment to the cities, villages, and towns for maintenance of their roads and streets.

Thus, it will be seen, there are no funds received from the state for construction of roads outside of the concrete paving for at least the next five years. It will be necessary for the towns and county to go together on all construction work done on the state, county and other town roads.

The county should be most interested in roads that will serve the county as a whole, such as the state trunk and county trunk highways, then town roads that connect these systems.

The towns should take care of the construction of their local roads serving only a few local people as often these roads do not require the width of grade and surfacing that is required by the county and state standards.

When a town wishes to do its own construction work, it should use town funds only and not ask the county for aid, as in asking for county aid, the law requires that the county take charge of the construction work and that each job be let by contract after being advertised for bids and such jobs must meet the approval of the state highway commission.

As the law does not permit of town or county borrowing funds for road construction work it is necessary to have all funds required for next year's work raised before November, so the tax levy is made in November, both by towns and county.

Many towns have been raising funds illegally in the past few years. The law allows the town at its annual town meeting to raise only $3000 for highway purposes, and it requires the town boards to raise all other funds necessary for work during the next year.

The town board is authorized to raise up to seven mills on the assessed valuation of the town for highway work.

It should be understood that no work can be done in 1927 unless the funds have been properly raised previous to the November meeting of the county board.

If there are any town boards that do not understand this, they should arrange a meeting with the county highway committee and get straight on this matter.

If there are any communities in the towns that desire their road constructed in the year 1927, they should see that the town boards meet and levy taxes for such work.

Dane county has been very liberal in assisting townships build their roads in the past, and while the county board is only required by law to meet petitions for county aid up to $2,000, they have met petitions up to $8,000 or $9,000.

This year the county highway committee felt that some towns were being taxed too high with such large programs for road building and have agreed to limit the county aid to each town to $5,000.

There are many townships that are not taking advantage of this liberal offer, and are asking only for $2,000. Such towns should realize they are helping pay for the work done in other towns giving others the benefit of a surfaced road while they are still traveling in the mud.

The tax payer should realize that the poor road tax is much greater than the good road tax.

It is the aim of the county highway department to assist the towns to set their roads properly constructed and done as soon as possible, but it is up to the town to take the initiative and raise all the funds they feel they can stand in their taxes.

The county highway committee feels that the towns that show that they are anxious to get their roads built and are willing to raise a liberal amount (at least the $3,000) should be further helped by receiving aid from the county gravel fund of which 50 percent is paid by the county and only 20 percent assessed against the town.

There are about ten townships in Dane county that have not been getting the average amount of the county aid and gravel fund in the past few years. The condition of roads in these towns indicates that they have shown little interest in getting good roads while they have helped pay for the good roads in the other twenty-five townships in the county.

Trade among Friends

No matter what some folks say to the contrary, there certainly is a lot of sentiment in business. Friendship, for instance, makes more satisfactory sales than all the cleverness and argument in the world.

You like to trade at a certain store—not because its counters are arranged in a scientific way, but because the folks who serve you are always friendly and helpful.

Just that very thing—FRIENDLY SERVICE—is the power that draws people together into communities like this, where everybody can enjoy the many benefits of neighborly cooperation.

And FRIENDLY SERVICE is the sentimental reason why you find it very much to your advantage to trade with our advertisers—to buy where you feel at home, where your friends will see that you are well satisfied.

—The Parent-Teachers association held their initial meeting of the season in the school assembly room. Professor Barrett presided and a delightful musical program was presented by the girls club. They rendered with taste and expression "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Kentucky Babe". Miss Katherine Gasser, our new music teacher, directed and it is in a great measure due to her careful training that the girls sang so well. Miss Genevieve Post also sang a solo entitled "Little Daughters" which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. MAZOMANIE, WIS., OCT. 8, 1926.

At The Majestic Theater.

"The Family Upstairs" is a very human story of what takes place behind the closed doors of half the homes in America. It is interpreted with sympathetic understanding by every member of the cast which includes such well known screen favorites as Allan Simpson, who plays the part of the beautiful lover, J. Farrell MacDonald, the Corporal Casey of "The Iron Horse," as the whimsical, much tried father, and Lillian Elliott in the part of Ma. It will be shown at the Majestic, Saturday.

Packed with thrills and red-blooded adventure, "The Sea Wolf," with Ralph W. Ince as "Wolf" Jack, the fighting skipper, will be the big feature at the Majestic Theatre, Tuesday.

Ralph W. Ince, Claire Adams and Theodore Von Eltz head a competent cast of players.

The most capable hands in Hollywood have made "The Cohens and Kellys," the Universal-Jewell coming to the Majestic Theatre next Wednesday. It is coming with an all-star cast which includes some of the greatest old-timers of stage and screen, all of whom are comedians extraordinary. Charlie Murray heads the cast, with George Sidney and Vera Gordon also featured. Others in the cast are Nat Carr, the brother of Alexander Carr, Kate Price, Jason Rodards, Olive Hasbrouck, Bobby Gordon and Mickey Bennett.

The story is a comedy-drama of quick richness and the relations between a Jewish and an Irish family on the East Side, New York. The Jewish family inherits a million dollars after having lived from the meager profits of a clothing store. That is the situation on which Harry Pollard, the great comedy director, has built the structure of his picture. Those who have seen previews of this picture assert that it is the funniest and most human picture they have seen.

ELECTRICITY WINS WAY WITH NEW YORK FARMS

Power Lines Slowly Reaching Out to Serve Them—A Rural Town Nearly 100 Per Cent Electrified

The Schoharie Valley, one of the most fertile sections in New York state, is fast becoming electrified. The Fulton County Gas and Electric Company now has a network of wires covering approximately 25 miles, supplied with hydroelectric power, and is still active in extending its lines throughout the rural sections.

A moral responsibility to the established a minimum charge of $1 per month with a sliding scale of rates from 15 cents to 6 cents per kilowatt hours of electricity. Where cooking devices are used a flat rate of 4 cents per kilowatt is charged with a minimum charge of $2 per month. Where the farmer extends electricity to his barn for uses other than lighting, including power applications, the rate varies from $2 farmer," declared W. J. Fox, district manager for the company, when asked how the development had been undertaken. "Of course it had eventually be good business, but right now it is good will we want of the farmers."

For farm lighting, the company has cents per kilowatt hour to 10 cents, according to the amount of electricity used.

One of the villages served, Cobleskill, is now practically 100 per cent electrified. There are but two or three houses which do not use electricity at least for lighting.

For months, laughter and tears alternate for an unusual effect leading to a surprising climax.

CALLS IT OBLIGATION

Young Says Electrical Industry Must Solve Rural Problem as Matter of Duty.

Farm electrification is not a business opening as much as it is a social obligation, in the opinion of Orest D. Young, a farm owner and with a farm beyond behind him, now chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Company. The obligation, in Mr. Young's opinion, rests with the electrical industry.

In an interview which Mr. Young has just granted to the New York Times, he says: "It is the electrical industry's job to make its contribution to adequacy and economy in farm production. Otherwise the electrical industry will be found wanting. And it must accept a problem of this magnitude and character as presenting a duty rather than a new market."

"The question is, how can a business of this size and importance be developed in such a way that the electrical industry can sell its service for what the purchasers can afford to pay? Anybody can produce goods at such a price that no one can afford to buy them. Business demands that the price shall be within reach of the potential customer, and that there shall be a fair return to the producer."

A job to be worked out by the manufacturing branch of the electrical industry to meet this problem. It must make and develop the necessary machinery. It can be done. The manufacturing branch applied the textile mill. It provided the machinery for the mine and the railroad, for the steel mill and the bakery.

"We can make farming attractive, comfortable and profitable. Electricity can lighten farm labor and increase farm profits. It will check the exodus of the better type of citizens from the farm. It will make the farmhouse the most delightful home we have in this country."

Mr. Young added that it was hardly to be expected that the isolated electric light and power company, having no interconnection of power lines with any other utility company, could go out and serve the farmer at a distance like that. But the opportunity can be pointed out, when fifteen or twenty such isolated utilities were led to gather into a single system with one large power plant, and a system of distribution lines, thereby accomplishing economies which each of the single isolated plants could not work out.

Electricity Thirsty
Part of the world, at least, moves by electricity. The passengers carried in one year by the electric rail-ways of just one state—Ohio—would make a line of people, shoulder to shoulder, that would stretch five times around the earth.

Dairy cattle exports from Wisconsin last year numbered 58,446 individual animals, a new record.
