I. G. A. NEWS

The Independent Alliance Stores have three distinct motives to feature:

First, Quality.—We guarantee every article to be just as represented or your money back. We do not put out old, stale stock, of which we have none, at attractive prices.

Second, Service.—Our time is yours. Time is money, so think fast. Our aim is to give you the best service obtainable anywhere, whether you are in Madison, Milwaukee, or Chicago. If there is any question as to a single article we carry, ask us; that is what we are here for.

Third, Price.—We can absolutely save you from $10.00 to $20.00 on every $100.00 of your Grocery and Meat bill, providing you consider quality. We do not want to be classed with that low quality junk often times put up to meet prices with.

A few days ago a lady from Milwaukee and another from Chicago came in after meat and see that we sold Silver Buckle goods. They said, "Give us a can of Peas, one of Pineapple, one of Peaches, and a pound of Silver Buckle Coffee. When you buy Silver Buckle Groceries you need not be afraid of getting stung."

This sure spoke well for our brand of goods. Every person who uses them will say the same. Ask those who have used them. Our prices are cheaper than any chain store in existence today, quality considered. So you see you are living cheaper than if you could shop in the city every day.

YOUR BODY NEEDS IRON: EGG YOLKS FURNISH IT

Egg yolks are the old spring tonic—slipshod and molasses.

Its place has been taken, in the modern home by eggs, for it has been found that they are especially good for the spring "tired feeling."

Today, eggs are added to the diet of most babies when they are three months old and continue to be one of the chief foods all during life.

The yolks are especially rich in iron, the one substance which is lacking in milk and which the body needs badly. This is why they are added to the milk diet of very young children. Mrs. Edith Bettinger, food specialist at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, explains, and the reason they are so desirable for both children and grown-ups who are pale and anemic.

Special care should be taken in preparing the egg yolk for young children. Mrs. Bettinger warns. Occasionally there is a child to whom raw egg white is poisonous, but usually only raw or slightly cooked eggs are given to babies. Just the least bit of raw white might cause a rise in temperature, or even produce blotches almost like blisters, or eczema.

This disturbance is caused by the albumin in the white. It may be prevented by washing the yolk to insure that the child gets no white. Mrs. Bettinger washes egg yolk by putting it in a sieve and then gently moving it up and down in a dish of water. The water must be boiled just like the drinking water for tiny babies. She then adds the necessary amount to the milk, beginning with a teaspoonful a day.

The egg yolks contain most of the food value of the egg, especially the foods which children need. This explains why the white may be eliminated so completely from the diet of the baby and young child.

You must remember that the only man who ever died from over work is already dead.

"THE BRUTE"

The golden west gives us a powerful drama of the throbbing madness of the Oklahoma oil rush. A story of an easy-going cowboy—disgraced, defeated—then changed to a fearless, fight-mad he-man for the love of a girl—and for vengeance! Hectic action! Colorful back grounds! A western epic!

Members of the Senior class had their pictures taken Thursday, April 28. Pictures, which have been received, have called forth the usual comments.

The South City baseball team defeated Mazomanie at Mazomanie last Friday afternoon, with a 2 to 3 final score. On Tuesday Mazomanie won at Black Earth where they played a good game. However, they were defeated 4 to 0.

On Tuesday Mrs. Harrell presented a block letter to the following members of the basketball team: Harold Mueller, Glen Morrow, Gilbert Roelke, Thomas Gort, Joe Holgren, William Gramlich, Robert Griswold, Russell Kiley, Harold Fey. The script letters were presented to members of the debating teams, and the winners of the Mazo oration.

and declamatory contests. Those on the debating teams were: Edith Harrop, Edith Mathewson, Gilbert Roelke, Russell Kiley, John Olsen, Carl Pries.

The tennis courts will soon be ready for use. Two of the courts are already marked off, and nets and balls have been secured. A tennis club has been organized which will schedule games with neighboring towns. The bylaws of the tennis club are:

1. Dues will be 25c a semester.
2. Anyone who pays his dues and abides by all bylaws is a member.
3. All members can play tennis.
4. No one can play unless he has proper shoes. (Rubber shoes.)
5. Anyone who loses a ball is responsible for it.
6. Those who play last are responsible for the nets and balls.
7. Anyone who lends his racket is responsible for it.
8. No playing will be allowed on wet courts.
9. No outsiders can play without permission from the officers.
10. Each officer has the authority to, and must enforce, all laws.

PROMINENT WISCONSIN FEED DEALERS SAY THIS

"March 1, 1927, Wauwesa, Wis.—The heights of a dealer's ambition is to find a dairy feed that guarantees the feeder a profit. We know that we have this in Red Diamond Dairy. Many of our customers have tried it out and are telling us that it makes so much profit that they want more. Some make us promise that we won't get out of Red Diamond because they don't want to lose money by being without it—Hamburg & Peters, Wauwesa, Wis."

At Mazomanie Red Diamond Dairy is sold by Ernest Cooke.

CUT THE FEED COST WITH SOY BEANS

(By Howard E. Rogers, Arena, Wis.)

Now is the time to plan for next winter's feed. Shall we buy cottonseed oil meal at high prices or raise our own? Most of us have plenty of acres but little cash. If we can use some of those acres to raise our own protein feeds, we can save our cash.

Will soy beans take the place of these feeds? How many acres will we need? How shall we plant our beans? What kinds shall we plant and how shall we harvest and feed them? All of these questions are only natural and should be answered before we start our crop.

Soy Beans are the best feed. The Dakota Experiment Station tested a number of cows first on oil meal next on cotton seed and then on soy beans. The cows made an average production of 20 per cent more on the soy beans than either of the others. Farmers who have used soy beans for their herds all praise them.

The field well
At the University farm at Madison an average production of 18 bushels per acre for seven years was obtained. On fairly good land, we can expect on half a ton of seed per acre. Poorer land will, of course, give smaller yields. If we have good land and feed a ton of cottonseed a year, we will need two acres of beans.

Plant them with Corn Planter.
Beans for seed do best when planted in rows and cultivated. Shut the corn planter wheels together until the rows are about 30 or 32 inches apart and drill the beans in inch or two apart in the rows. This will take approximately 40 pounds of seed per acre. Plant them at corn planting time and take care of them in the same way. Many of the best Midwest beans give the best results here. If you are late planting, some of the earlier varieties may be better. The early ones are the Ito San and the Wisconsin Black. After the beans are up they may be dragged with a spike tooth harrow. Don't drag them until the leaves are well out. Dragging will get many of the little weeds out of the row.

Cut with the Mower.
A mower with a buncher attachment works the best for cutting. They may be threshed in a regular grain thrasher but this cracks a good many. The corn shredder works very well. Turn the pile in the fields after cutting and they will pick up all of the beans that have shelled out. Feed them the same as you would cottonseed but don't grind more than two weeks supply at a time as they may turn rancid.

The man who didn't take a vacation last summer in order that he might have money to buy coal for winter, is now wondering where the money for coal is that he didn't spend on his vacation.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

—May 1st was the dead line for the sale of autos with 1926 licenses. Salward and Mrs. Doherty attended the group meeting of the W. F. M. S. which was held at Wesley Foundation, Madison, on Tuesday, May 3.

—Any article which has unusual endorsement from those who have used it, must surely possess a great deal of virtue. In this column there are appearing testimonials from prominent dairymen, stock breeders and feed dealers, telling of the virtues of Red Diamond dairy feed. It may be interesting to dairymen to read these testimonials.

—Mrs. Frank Lashway was struck by a car as she was crossing the street near the bridge crossing Saturday night. Mrs. Lashway, 42, of Madison, is here caring for her mother.

—The opening of the trout season Sunday brought thousands of fishermen into Wisconsin from other states for the purpose of "whipping" the stocked streams of the state. Basing his estimate on the demand for trout, a Conservator, Commissioner Elmer S. Hall figured that upwards of 20,000 non-resident licenses will have been issued by the end of the week.

—David Harrop, 56, of Arena, a nephew of R. W. Harrop, of this place, died suddenly while at work in the barn at his farm in Mill Creek, Thursday evening of last week. Salvation Army workers have complete charge of relief in many sections and have workers throughout the flood area. They are on the ground working night and day.

At The Majestic Theater.

Tonight—A western picture that is gripping from its first flash on the screen to the finish is "Cyclone of the Range" an FBO production starring Tom Tyler which will be seen at the Majestic Theatre "tonight. Here is a stirring story of the west, with all the thrills action hard riding and quick shooting which are a part of the life in that rugged country.

Saturday—Based on that hitting melody written twenty years ago by Mamie Noyan, Columbia Pictures Corporation has produced a film under the original title, "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," with the petite Shirley Mason in the original role. The picture comes to the Majestic Theatre Saturday. The wistful story of Rosie O'Grady, the Second Avenue foundling, was immortalized in the song, along with the unforgettable Ben Shapiro, the kindly old pawnbroker, and patrolman Slim Brady, who lavished there love upon the waif who was left on a doorstep.

A. Alva Warren has the role of Uncle Ben Shapiro the pawnbroker and it is said that he presented the lovable old character of the song with touching effect. William Conklin appears as the stiff Patrolman Brady with a hand as big as a ham and a heart as great as all outdoors.

Tuesday—A young department store salesgirl, her kid brother and a police dog, the latter found injured and befriended, are the central figures in a mighty engrossing and wholly unmarvelous picture, "When a Dog Loves" which comes to the Majestic Theatre Tuesday. The picture is a visualization of John Moros's story of the same name.

"When a Dog Loves" is a picture that will afford equal entertainment to young folks and grown ups and especially to boys, whose love of dogs is proverbial.

Sunday—Picturesque backgrounds, hard fighting and beautiful women serve to highlight "Whispering Sage" a colorful Western in which Fox Films presents Buck Jones coming to the Majestic Theatre next Sunday. Natcha Joyce has the featured feminine role.
