FAMILY GATHERING

May 29 is to many former residents of Mazomanie a home coming and many who come to visit the resting place of departed loved ones find this a time to greet old friends and renew old acquaintances.
For almost ten years the home of Merrill Bros. has been the scene of a family gathering upon this day. This year the party numbered forty, all of whom brought baskets of food, which fine cafeteria dinner was served.

Each year some new faces are seen and some familiar faces are missing. This year we missed the Varnell's of Baraboo, and hope that nothing more serious than weather conditions caused their absence.
As we were about to part, an invitation was extended to all to meet at the Merrill home again next year, 86 with a pleasant memory of the past, we shall also look forward with pleasure to May 30th, 1928.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bronson, Mrs. Nellie Bement and daughter Miss Gladys, and Miss Nettie Merrill of Portage; Mr. and Mrs. George S. Wilson of Rockford, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wallen and son, of Argyle, Wis.; H. Hodgson and family of Sauk; Vernon Holzman and family of Mounds Creek; Lorraine Hodgson and Mabel Merrill of Madison; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooke, Arena; Gordon Linley and family, Earl Ryswater and family, of Mounds Creek; Harvey Taylor and family, Sauk; E. M. Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Stickney.

Rural folks of the state are reading the same type of books that are read in the cities, according to the state library commission. Good literature too!

TRAFFIC WARNING.

At the last meeting of the Village Board it was voted to request the Highway Commission to make State Trunk Highway No. 11 an arterial at the postoffice corner in this village. The Highway Commission has placed a stop sign there, and any driver failing to stop will be arrested.
By Order of the Village Board.

BANQUET MEAT FREE

Madison.—Threshermen from thirty Wisconsin counties will gather at 10th Park, on the shore of Lake Monona two miles south of Madison, for an immense barbecue and all-day picnic on Thursday, June 8.

Barbecued meat and coffee prepared by "Oop" Graig, famous negro cook of Lancaster, will be available for 1500 people. Every Wisconsin thresherman and his wife and children will be welcomed. Those who can, should bring baskets of lunch. Farmer customer and machine helpers are also invited. The affair is sponsored by the Wisconsin Brotherhood of Threshermen, but no charge will be made to any visitor.

A full program, starting at 10 A. M. will include calypso music, dancing, operating machinery, good speakers, mail-driving and croquet-throwing contests for women, horse-shoe pitching for the threshermen's state championship, and a special trip to the Madison Zoo for threshermen's children.

MAZOMANIE SICKLE

MAZOMANIE, WIS. JUNE 3, 1927.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

—James at Trautman's hall, Roxbury, Monday, June 6th. Music by Twin City orchestra. Admission including tax and wardrobe, $1.00. Lunch and refreshments will be served. All invited.

—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson, of Winnebago, Saturday morning. The baby, a son, was named, and Mrs. Louis Kirch went to Winnebago, Saturday, to see their new niece.

—Delect of William H. Sommers, Blue Mounds, for re-election as chairman of the county board, was the outstanding development when the supervisors met Tuesday to organize for the June session.

—Mrs. McCracken, M. D. Miss Grace S. Schultz and Betty McCracken, grand daughter, of Belvidere, Ill., Mrs. C. C. Lloyd and son, Claire, of Rockford, Ill., spent Sunday and Monday with Mrs. M. E. Gleason.

The Richland Center High School band won first place in the state tournament at Milwaukee last Friday and Saturday, getting close to 90 points out of a possible 100. Several individual members also won first prizes for solo work.

—Gib. Linley's team ran away from the Lindstrom farm last Friday afternoon, and came down town. Chester Weinschenk's coupe stopped them at the Wineschenk corner, but not until the wagon tongue had penetrated the glass door of the coupe.

—Ralph Holston, a graduate of the Mazomanie high school, class of 1925, won a sophomore in the College of Agriculture, at the University in Madison, won first prize in the dairy cattle judging contest last week. It was open to all students of the college of agriculture, and there were fifteen contestants. This will have an important result in securing a place on the University stock judging next year that goes to Kentucky. Twice in one year a student receives recognition from a small town high school, Nellie Sholtz having received highest place in her class for special work.

The ceremonies of Memorial Day were observed at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, May 29, at the M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. E. H. Doherty, delivering an address on "The Righteous Man." There were present of the G. A. R. John B. Hicks and Nathan H. Ellis. The other survivors of the Post, Wm. Schumann, of Sauk City, and Horace Smith, of this place, were unable to be present, but the former attended the services Monday. On Decoration Day the members of the G. A. R. the schools and citizens formed a procession at the village hall at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and after passing white flowers were strewn for the Navy on the water of the stream passing through the village, they proceeded to the cemetery. The ceremonies there consisted of the G. A. R. chapter's invocation to the Supreme Being, Rev. E. H. Doherty's short address on the Unknown Soldier, Carl Schumann's talk on What Shall we do About Memorial Day? A Citizens' Memorial Day committee was then chosen to take charge of preparations for Memorial Day for 1928. Flowers were then placed on the graves in the Protestant and Catholic cemeteries.

New goods pour into and out of this store every day.

It's like the bottomless pitcher you've heard of which never became empty. You could keep pouring out of it, but there was always just as much left.

That's why this store never gets empty, no matter how much is poured out of it, it is always full of new, fresh and bright merchandise. Many new goods have poured into it this week.

Because Fourth of July is on the way, we've stocked up with more new suits. On that glad day no man in Mazomanie will be more fittingly attired than the one who strolls in one of our nationally known Curlee or Middishade suits. We have the color becoming to you—the material to your liking.

To-day we are sending a suit to Mr. William Sawle, Jr., Chicago. He says: "Here I'm in Chicago, and buy clothes in Mazomanie." There's a reason.

Women's silk umbrellas for rain or shine. Carved and colored handles with silk braid cord on side, $3.50 to $5.00. We know people who paid a third more.

New wash silks for the discriminating woman. If you'd stick around and listen you'd hear something like this: "So lovely" or "Just fine and only $1.50 a yard."

New caps that are hard to beat, unbreakable visors and silk lining. Showy styles, $1.00 to $2.50.

Mens' fancy plaid rayon silk socks 35c 3 pairs $1.00. You'd guess twice as much.

At The Majestic Theater.

Saturday—“White Flannels,” the Warner Bros. picture, featuring Louise Dresser, Jason Robards and Virginia Brown-Fairie, which comes to the Majestic Theatre next Saturday, tells the story of Frank Brooks, a college football idol, who had begun life as a coal miner. His mother had slaved till there was money enough to send him to college.
Homestead for him, she had followed, taking a job as waitress in a restaurant in the college town, keeping hidden from him, lest her humble presence disgrace him.

Sunday—The entire civilized world knows about the “Lone Wolf” and his exciting exploits.
Louis Joseph Vance, the famous novelist, invented him and through 5 successful best sellers sent him on a series of reckless adventures which interested and thrilled countless thousands of people. And now he has been brought to life on the screen in the person of Bert Lytell, and will be seen at the Majestic Theatre on Sunday. “The girl who brings about the Lone Wolf’s regeneration is played by Billie Dove, and the supporting cast of this brilliant Columbia Picture, directed by Ralph Ince, includes Gwen Lee, Freeman Wood, Gustav von Seyffertitz and Alphonzo Eliazer.

Wednesday—Now Year’s Eve—the gayest night of all—is the setting for “The Love Thrill,” a Universal comedy starring Laura La Plante, which is the feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday. Many of the events take place in a cabaret where the advent of the coming year is being gloriously celebrated and Director M. Webb had an exact replica of a famous New York night club constructed at Universal City for the scenes.

Friday next week—Charlie Chaplin’s leading woman, Georgia Hale, in “The Gold Rush,” will be seen in support of Buck Jones in “Hills of Peril” when this picture has a local showing at the Majestic Theatre Friday. This winsome screen favorite is always in demand for the playing of leading roles with noted male stars. Not only because of her consummate ability as an actress and her character of manner, but also because she has the faculty of falling into character with wholehearted sincerity and thus make herself and admirable foil to the male star.

Carib Gold

By ELLERY H. CLARK

Time was when Ellery H. Clark was famous as all-around athletic champion of America. He was a double winner at Olympic Games. For twenty-five years he was distinguished on track and field, winning prizes in thirty different lines of competition, from the ten-yard dash to the discus throw. And now he writes a pirate story, racing away from the first word in a straight, swift dash and closing with a leap of burning speed. He does it in the calm, convincing manner of a champion, always master of himself and his material.
