

THE MAZOWANIE SICKLE.

VOL. LIV.

MAZOMANIE, DANE COUNTY WISCONSIN, FRIDAY SEPT. 23, 1927

NO. 33

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
The Word of God is the only source of life and a higher power than any other.—Psalm 119:105

PRAYER ANSWERED:—I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles. Psalm 34: 4, 6.

PRAYER:—O Thou who hearest prayer, to Thee we come. In Thee we trust, O every need out of the riches in glory in Christ Jesus. What question did the rich ruler ask?

Jesus? Answer read—Luke 18:18.

OBITUARY

Robert Sutcliffe.
Robert Sutcliffe was born in Mazomanie, Wis., July 12, 1882, and died at Omaha, Neb., September 14, 1927, at the age of forty-five years. Two months and one day last winter while home on a visit to his brothers and sisters, he underwent a serious operation at Madison, from which he never fully recovered.

He was married to Miss Mary Curtis, of Madison, in June 1909, who lived but a short time, passing away November 7, 1911. The greater part of his life was spent in Mazomanie and on the farm in Mounds Creek, where he had many friends. The past eight years he has spent in Omaha, Nebraska.

He is survived by three brothers and three sisters: Dr. Frank Sutcliffe, of Mt. Horeb; Charles and Mrs. R. H. Harmon, of Madison; Irene, of Chicago; Fred and Mrs. Jennie Wilson, of Mazomanie. All were present at the funeral. The body arrived here Saturday, and was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Bert Wilson, where funeral services were held at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. S. C. Plokes. Interment was made in the Mazomanie cemetery. The funeral was largely attended.

Among relatives and friends present at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gefke, son and daughter, Prof. Wm. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. Cairns, John Curtis, son and daughter, of Madison; Mr. and Mrs. Blakely Sutcliffe, of Black Earth; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Williams, and Owen Davis, of Humphreys; Mr. and Mrs. Moeen, daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moeen, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, of Mt. Horeb.

Card of Thanks.

To all neighbors and friends who assisted us during the burial of our brother, to the minister, singers, and others, we wish to extend our sincere thanks.

The Brothers and Sisters.

FAKE FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

THE Industrial Commission of Wisconsin says in a letter just received, "We thoroughly believe in preparedness to fight fires, and to that end have recommended first aid fire appliances, particularly proper, approved hand fire extinguishers. Neither the underwriters nor we have at any time approved or recommended the powder tube fire extinguisher. Beware of fakes."

The National Fire Protection Association says: "In our opinion all forms of dry powder extinguishers are inferior for general use and an attempt to extinguish fires with them may cause delay in the use of water or other approved extinguishing agents."

Speaking of powder tubes, Fire Protection magazine has this to say: "The countryside has awakened to the fact that they were paying $3 for a package they could have put up themselves for about twelve cents. Some have learned in time of need of the worthlessness of the tin can in which they had placed their faith. The same amount of common baking soda will do more than any powder tube sold today. Industry throughout the country is anxious to endorse any efficient means to extinguish incipient fires and would gladly save the thousands of dollars it is spending for approved chemicals if the same results could be obtained by the use of cheap powder tubes, the best of which can be had at a price ranging from 25 cents each to 65 cents per dozen. R. L. Maltha, Black Earth, Wis."

Demand for supervisors of campfire associations outruns the supply, says an announcement from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. Special short course training for cowboys will be given at the state college, starting November 14.

An agricultural census of the world will likely be undertaken in 1929 under the direction of the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET OCTOBER 12

THE annual convention of the Dane County Sunday School Association will occur Wednesday, Oct. 12 at Madison. This association is the local unit of the Wisconsin Christian Education Council whose headquarters of five is at Oshkosh. The promotion of Christian education among the children and youth of the state is the job of this organization. The officers hope that every Sunday school in the county will be well represented at this convention. Those who attend will greatly enjoy meeting other folks interested in the same kind of work and comparing notes with them. Pilgrim (evangelical) church of Madison has invited us to accept her hospitality this year. To find the church follow the street car line four blocks east from the Northwestern passenger station to the corner of Junior and Brady streets.—C. S. Hean, county president.

Five flour sacks would go unused, if all the homemakers in the state put away the Thrift Club sacks at the state fair, in which ordinary sacks were turned into dainty garments and artistic decorations.

Old papers for sale at this or for an instant for a nickel.

Carefully-fitted dairy calves, numbering 520 head, were exhibited by 4-H club members at the state fair. This year's show being the largest in the history of Badger 4-H club history.

After dinner speakers, newspapermen and other public exhorters, please take note: Wisconsin, according to a sage of India, is composed of ten parts, nine of which are silence and the other brevity.

ADRIAN FENCE

Make Your Farm Worth More Money

You can do it. Fence it in with honest built Adrian Fence—they look good, are better made and are best for all around service.

It's easy to put up and take down Adrian Fence—they're so well made it doesn't hurt them.

This makes possible more diversified farming. Makes more money for you. The improved appearance Adrian Fence give will increase the value of your farm. That increased value covers a dozen times the cost of putting up the fence.

No danger of damage to crops from cattle when Adrian Fence are up. Another money saving feature.

And you can cultivate more ground with this fence than with old fashioned fences. Still another saving.

Those are only a few ways; there are others.

Let us show you Adrian Fence, made by Adrian Wire Fence Co., Inc.; we are selling miles of it. Drop in next time you are in town.

Goodyear Tires

We used to sell another line of TIRES. And we believe they were good ones. But we were asked many times, "Do you think that Tire is as good as the Goodyear?"

So we figured if our customers made Goodyear their standard of value—why try to sell them any other kind.

And for that reason we are now selling Goodyears exclusively.

When Signs Were Speech

YEARS ago man depended upon his physical strength for food and shelter. Weird sounds, signs and gestures were his only means of communication.

Primitive man's world went as far as his voice and sight carried him.

Yet primitive man, in his desire to make himself understood, expressed the need for better and faster methods of communication, which culminated in the telephone. More than eighteen million telephones now tie the United States into a compact telephone neighborhood.

Primitive man would have found it hard to get along without his stone hammer—it would be quite as hard, today, to get along without a telephone.

MANY LAUGHS IN WOMANLESS WEDDING.

THE Mazomanie doctors and ambulance owners are preparing for a couple of big days next week, all because serious are expected to go into seasons of laughter at the arrival of eighty men of this city in the "Womanless Wedding."

W. W. Morehead will be the blash-ing bride. The identity of his future bride remains a secret until the first op" N. C. Kirch. However, the public is assured that he will be both regular and handsome. Many message songs and dances will be offered.

All of the cast will be dolled up in woman's (very and many gosses of envy will go up from the audience at the Paris gown and beautiful character costumes worn by local men.

If you survive the laughs created by the presenting of the characters there is an even greater amount of fun in the program. It is comedy from beginning to end. It is guaranteed to waggle the sternest face in laughter.
Those who have seen the performance say it is one of the biggest evenings of fun they have ever had in their lives.

MRS. J. S. MILLER.

The death is announced at the Wisconsin Veterans' Home of Mrs. Lydia Miller, widow of Major J. S. Miller, and aunt of Mrs. Helen McClure and Charles E. Whelan. The demise came on the 13th of September, 1927, and she was buried beside her husband in the Home cemetery, September 15.

Mrs. Miller was the daughter of Rev. Moses Bowler. She was born in Waterloo, New York, June 28, 1840, and came west with her parents in 1848, settling in Walworth county.
She removed with the family to Ma-zomanie in the late 50's and was married to Major Miller, December 31, 1863. She was south with her husband for a considerable time during the war and on their return they resided in this village, where the Major was engaged in carpenter work. Latter they moved to Stoughton and then

Silage Outdoes Fodder in Milk Production

Returns from An Acre of Corn Expressed in Its Value in Making Milk

A N ACRE of corn has a much higher feeding value when fed to dairy cows as silage than it has when cured and fed as fodder, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The superior value of silage over fodder is attributed largely to the smaller waste in handling, curing, storing and feeding of silage and to its greater palatability. Because silage is much more palatable than corn fodder, more of it is consumed, thus making more nutrients available for milk production.
These facts are borne out by an experiment made by the Iowa agricultural experiment station in which corn silage was compared to corn fodder in well-balanced rations fed to the dairy cows. By giving corn silage a feeding value of $120 a ton, or $36.00 for an acre yield of eight tons, the relative value of corn fodder was found to be $11.35 for a production of 3.4 tons per acre. However, as there is about 5 per cent greater additional loss resulting from curing fodder than there is from curing silage, the actual value of the fodder is reduced to $10.82. An acre of corn, then, in silage shows results therefore, are given but 45 per cent the value of an acre of silage for feeding to the dairy cows.

TUNNEY RETAINS TITLE

In the ten round battle between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey at Chicago last night, the former was given the decision after the tenth round.

—A very large airplane, of the monoplan type, having a wing spread of seventy or eighty feet, with three propellers, each driven by a motor of more than 200 horsepower, and manned by six army men, landed in A. Rydell's field, south of the railway track late Saturday afternoon, to avoid flying into a storm approaching from the northwest. The plane and its crew remained here over night, the plane being left in charge of Mr. Rydell. A large number of visitors were out to see this unusual plane, both Saturday evening and Sunday morning. After taking on fifty gallons of aviation gas, and warming up the engines, for several hours, they left at about eleven o'clock Sunday morning bound for the far west.

—Mrs. A. C. Culbertson, of Tacoma, Wash., spent Wednesday with her husband and the Nels Simley family. She will soon return to reside here.

The hot spell has kept us from asking you to look at our new overcoats, for it might have made us appear somewhat like the man who asked a woman he had not seen for a long time, how her husband stood the heat, and she said he had been dead two years.

It's cooler now so we are going to ask you to accept our cordial invitation to inspect these debonair styles of Fifth Avenue at one-half the price the New York club man pays his tailor.

It pays to trade in Mazomanie. Outsiders don't pay a penny to its welfare or your taxes. It's wiser to buy what you can see from people you know. To trade away from home when your merchants can supply all your wants with satisfaction, always puts us in mind of what Harry Fey said about going far away to fish in a lake when there was a plenty of suckers and bullheads right at home on dry land.

We were glad to have Leary Welsh of our boyhood days call on us. A few will remember him. The snows are on Leary's head now, but summer is still in his heart. We always remember the time we won all his marbles, and when he began to cry we gave them back to him, and then he traded a part of them back to us for angle-worms.

Don't forget the Wilton rugs we've told you about. They will cheer up your home, $35.00 to $50.00. Yard wide white outing flannel 16c, Challies 15c, Sheetings 15c. Low prices for high priced cotton. And if you have any sporting blood in you, you'll want one of our new sport sweaters.

MAZOMANIE, WIS., SEPT. 23, 1927.

At The Majestic Theater.

Tonight—Thrills and action. Scenery and thrills! That is the exciting burden of "Senior Darcovelli," the latest production showing at the Majestic Theatre tonight. It is a picture you shouldn't miss. Ken Maynard is star, and Dorothy Devore, who is as charming as she is capable, is co-featured as leading lady. There is a fine cast of familiar names, and the direction of Al Bogell is top notch. The story is by Marion Jackson.

Saturday—During the filming of "White Pants Willie," Johnny Hines' new First National Picture produced by C. C. Burr, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre, Saturday, the comedian always had difficulty locating Bozo, the educated goose, who plays an important comedy role. One morning on location he saw the farmer who owned the farm carrying something white under his arm. "Hey, what you got there?" Johnny cried. "Oh, I'm just going to replace some of my seeds, that's all." "Seeds?" It looks to me more like Bozo, my goose!" "It is; the seeds are inside," replied the farmer.

Sunday—If you are not prepared to laugh until your sides ache, stay away from the Majestic Theatre Sunday, where the screaming First National comedy, "Lost at the Front," is the attraction. Humor at its best. Geo. Sidney and Charlie Murray in the stellar roles and lovely Natalie Kingston as the leading woman. This entertainment is superb. This story details the experiences on the Russian front during the World War of Patrick Muldown and August Krause, friendly but at dagger's points over a girl!

Tuesday—Three contrasts of life are afforded in the powerful comedy-drama of father-son "The Prince of Headwaiters," which will be featured on the program at the Majestic Theatre next Tuesday. First, with Lewis Stone and Patricia Hammer the action is told in a picturesque studio apartment in Paris. Then the story shifts to the John Cable home in Boston. It fairly radiates luxury and New England civility; there is dignity in every owner. Finally the story moves to the Ritz hotel, New York, where extravagance and luxury and lavishness are emphasized in many ways.

Wednesday—Have you an inverted ego? We don't mean to be personal, or anything like that, but if you have such an affliction and really want to cure it—why just drop in at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and see how it is done. Jack Mulhall will show for you. You see, Jack suffers from just that in his latest picture, "The Poor Nut," in which he overcomes his affliction in wonderful shape. To learn the secret you must see him in action.
