It's Not Your Carburetor-- It's Your Valves!

Poor motor—poor carburetor! They get the blame when your car doesn't buzz just right, and it is a ten to one shot that the trouble is in your valves! Why blame the piston, the rings, the timer, the ignition, the oil, the gas—until after you are sure your valves are right? If they leak, there is no carburetor made that can supply a different mixture for each cylinder, and that's what it would have to do—when the valves leak. 85% of all motor troubles can be traced back to faulty valves. Come in. Let us tell you how and why. We are valve specialists—we can help you. Give us a trial. We use the Kwik-Way System of Servicing Valves.

WORTH WHILE THOUGHTS

In the February issue of "People's Popular Monthly" in answer to the question: "Who is to blame for the ward Heenan's ultra-violent crime?" Carl Proger, editor, says: "Every minister who has spent time on creed and dogma, instead of love for one's fellowmen, and every intolerant literary who exalts belief above helpful living are to blame. Church members are to blame. Every teacher in the public schools who accepts no responsibility for character building, and every superintendent and school board who has not challenged such teaching, are to blame. Publishers and moving picture magnates are to blame. Business men who countenance the breaking of any law are distinctly to blame."

Legislators, judges, lawyers, and jurors who allow technicalities and preventable delays to interfere with quick enforcement are to blame. And others and mothers who fail to discuss their children and to teach the social obligation which every youth has to others, are to blame in the most culpable way. Yes, we are all to blame, for conditions which breed moral degeneracy. We are complacent about immorality in high and low.
We no longer hold sacred the institution of marriage. We seem to think money can take the place of God in human life, and American pays, and will continue to pay until all these workers with youth assume the responsibility which is theirs, and build character into our youth. And render to a kind and just God, the worship.
This arraignment is well worth the careful consideration of every American citizen. Fred R. Smith, chairman of the World Alliance for International Friendship, gives in the January 28, Christian Herald, these five requisites of the SUCCESSFUL business man:

First: A successful business man should make money.

Second: The successful business man must operate in harmony with those newer, higher ethical standards which are being so personally advanted and demanded. To "give and let live," to give a "square deal," to accept the principles of the Golden Rule if he is to write in true terms "successful" over his record.

Third: The successful business man must render service to the community, the state, the nation, and to the world. He must have a side-line of democracy, philanthropy, humanitarian, or religious endeavor. He must have a contribution to the weal of the world.

Fourth: The successful business man must know how to spend his money in a healthy and a helpful way.
The good will of the world is invested in what kind of definition and theory the successful business men hold concerning their wealth.

Fifth: The successful business man needs an adequate moral dynamic to be able to "follow through." There needs to be in the life of the modern business man an abiding conviction about his duty toward God.

I am sure that in some form or other, the qualities are essential to the man who is going to write over his record at the end of the year, "I have been a successful business man." Yet, altogether the dollars accumulated, not altogether the pleasures and joys; but the realization of having made a contribution to those great spiritual values of human life; this, I take it, spells a successful business man.

AMERICA THRILLED BY NEW BATTLE CRY 30 YEARS AGO

Thirty years ago the whole United States rang with a new battle cry.
It was "Remember the Maine!" and it was with that slogan that we entered the war with Spain, which was destined to be our shortest war and most brilliantly won victory.

February 15 is the anniversary of the event which gave us that war cry, for it was on February 15, 1898, that the battleship Maine was blown up in the harbor of Havana, Cuba. That disaster proved to be a turning point in American history. If you would know why it was such, be sure to read the illustrated feature article, "Remember the Maine," by Elmo Scott Watson, in this issue of The Sickle.

A writer says that in 20 years you will lose American homes. Yes, 20 years from 1907.

MAZOMANIE SICKLE

MAZOMANIE, WIS., FEB. 3, 1928

DO YOU READ THE ADS?

Do you read the advertisements in The Sickle? If you have not made a practice of doing so, then begin with this issue, for these advertisements are not idle boasts of men having fortunes and worthless goods for sale, but are invitations of honorable traders, men who are doing their best to keep Mazomanie's trade in Ma-zomanie, where it rightfully belongs.
In order to do this, the advertising merchants know they must make good; that they cannot hope to win in the battle of life and struggle for existence where competition is keen unless they live up to every letter of their advertisements and give to their patrons the very best that money can buy at prices within the domain of reasonable profit. Every one of them means to do this. Every one of them is interested in the upbuilding of the village, and every one will not only make good the promise he makes in this paper, but he will do better, because he knows that when he does a good will and will deal with his customer upon the theory that he may retain his customer's patronage, and not upon the theory that he will have but one business transaction with his customer and then, and their business relations are in the case with most of the out of town citizens, patronized occasionally by residents of this village. Mazomanie merchants advertise because they want the business that of right should be theirs. They feel it a duty to let the public know what they have to sell, and the principles they propose to follow in relation to their business. Read what they have to say, for it is of interest to you. Read what they have to say because every advertising merchant is an up-to-date business man, fully alert to the needs of the people of this village and vicinity. Try them; get their prices and terms before risking your money on adventures which require you to deal unsight and unseen and to pay for the goods before you receive them. If you cannot make good bargains where you see what you buy before buying it, how in reason can you hope to get bargains when you buy without seeing what you buy?

A man of 91 was married last week to a girl of 17. Both of them should have been compelled to get the consent of their parents before going through with the ceremony.

Old papers for sale at this office at a reasonable price.

Prof. F. G. Krage writes from Washington, D. C. under date of January 29: Attended the Congregational church here today and sat within 10 feet of President and Mrs. Coolidge.
Congregation arose as they entered and took seats in the fourth pew from the front. At the close, all remained standing while the preacher escorted them to the door. They took part in the services just as the others did.

When we look at finger prints they all look alike to us. But when an expert investigates them he finds a big difference, for in all the world there are no two alike.

So it is with clothes. All may look alike to you, but when they are examined by those who know, the truth comes out.

Until you have actually worn our famous Middishade Curlee or NuBorn suits, you'll never know the pleasure others have enjoyed and that you have missed.

We would be glad to show you our New Spring Line, and so we renew our invitation to you to inspect it.

We never could see how some stores sell suits for $50.00 or $60.00 and then in a few weeks after sell them for $30.00 or less. The price was not right at the start. Our prices are not high one month, and in the next month drop to where they should have been in the first place.

We always like to hear from old customers. Here's a nice letter from Mrs.

Basket Ball—Middleton Game

Mazomanie High School basket ball team, on Tuesday, Jan. 24, played another, long-up game. Our team is getting good but not over confident. Perfect passing is becoming second nature to them. That sure was a play of a game at Middleton, for Mazo had the oldscrap from beginning to end. It was thought before the game that Middleton had a much better team than Mazo, and it was expected that we would be beaten 10 points. Middleton had a game of big boys, and as usual, their second team is as heavy as our first. Those big babies put under the basket and a person has no more chance of getting the ball than the man in the moon unless he takes a run and a flying jump at it. The score was fairly even all through the game, they were leading us about five points at the end of the first three quarters, but the last quarter was different. If any spectator had seen us play that last eight minutes they would have been surprised that we have a might good team. In the last period, time out was called, when there were five minutes left to play and the score was 24 to 19 in favor of them. Time out was called again when there was only a minute and forty-five seconds left to play, and the score was 27 to 26 in our favor. In the very last few seconds they made a lucky basket, the player was nearly standing on his head and gave the ball a toss and plunk! in she went. If you ever saw a fine job of refereeing you should have seen that game. The referee sure knew his business. The second team also played Middleton second team. They got beat 15 to 8 but that wasn't so bad for that was about the first game they had ever played together. I'm sure if you come and see the Middleton games here you will see a victory for both first and second teams.

Spring Green Game—Hodgson.

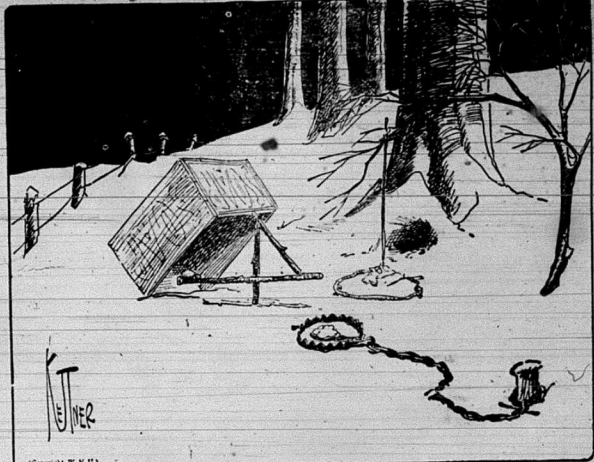

Those that saw Mazo High school get a trimming last Friday by Spring Green probably think that what was just said about the team is all-bunk, but ask the man who knows. Mazo outplayed and outscored them the first half, but because of the foul game they had had, and the fact that they didn't have the endurance to stand the gaff. They gave all they had in the first half, but well—spring Green has a better team. What loss probably spoils all our hopes of getting very far in the league.

Next Friday (today) we go to Waukegan. That will probably be a rough and tumble, because the door is small and their lobby is rough playing.

The following is the lineup of the two games:

ELVEN ELECTRIC SLAVES FOR EACH AMERICAN FAMILY.

THE estimated output of nearly 500,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electric power for the United States in 1927, if it could be converted into equivalent man power, would provide the average family of about four persons in the United States with the services of eleven unskilled mechanical laborers working eight hours daily, including Sundays and holidays, at a total cost for the eleven of about $75 a year.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON

President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. The country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

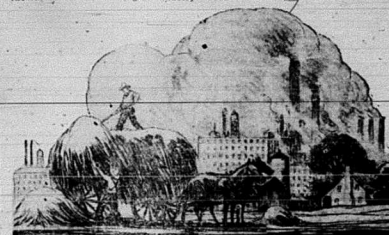

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage.

There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in those states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This making of industry and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry.

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

I would not remove that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country, for future industries to be located in these small villages rather than to be further concentrated in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standard of living, increases the tax base, and reduces taxes and makes business educational facilities.

Two Striking Examples
I believe I can give you two striking examples of this. In twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to 100,000. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit of cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $25,000,000.

The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.
